

Ike Says Critics Of U.S. Defense Power Mistaken

President Views Imposing Array Of Weapons at Infantry Center

Washington — They are mistaken — or worse — President Eisenhower says about critics who contend America has become "soft" and couldn't defend itself in a nuclear war.

The president hit at the critics in an informal talk yesterday at Ft. Benning, Ga. He spoke out after witnessing a spectacular demonstration of atomic weapons to back up foot soldiers. They included the new Davey Crockett short range gun designed for quick use at any trouble spot.

Eisenhower, who spent seven hours at the big infantry training center and then flew back to Washington last night, also saw many of the latest weapons fired — with conventional rather than nuclear warheads — under simulated battle conditions. Rockets zoomed from hovering helicopters, tank guns zeroed in on targets with deadly accuracy, and Honest John and Little John missiles thundered from mobile launching pads.

Imposing Array
In advance of the firepower demonstration, the army had paraded before Eisenhower an imposing array of other weapons with nuclear capability—the Nike Ajax, Nike Hercules, Hawk, Corporal, LaCrosse, and the new Pershing and Sergeant.

Then the president went to a microphone at the edge of the firing range and told the Ft. Benning personnel: "A day like this makes a man quite ready to call all those people mistaken, or worse, who say that America has become soft and is not capable of defending itself. I am so proud of you that I really have no words in which to express it."

Eisenhower was on hand for the first public display of the new Davey Crockett nuclear gun, still very much hush-hush so far as its details are concerned.

New Weapon
But Sec. of the Army Wilber M. Brucker, the president's host at Benning, said in a statement there:

"Davey Crockett will significantly enhance the military posture of U. S. ground forces. With this weapon, small combat units will have organic atomic power which they will be able to take with them to any trouble spot in the world in a matter of hours."

Payola Probe Ends as House Promises Action

Washington — House investigators have closed the books on their marathon payola inquiry with a new blast at broadcasting standards and a promise to do something about them.

The paring shot was a congressional report that payola has been a lavish practice affecting the TV-radio industry in all parts of the nation. The report was coupled with a new barrage at Dick Clark, the disc jockey king, and complaints that television is riddled with trash, inept programming and too much commercializing.

Sees Improvement
President Leonard H. Goldenson of the American Broadcasting company conceded the industry has its problems. But he said things are improving and that next fall will

Nixon Outpolls Kennedy in Indiana's Primary Election

Vice President's Total Surpasses Support Given Ike When He Was Running

By The Associated Press

Mounting returns from Indiana today gave Vice President Richard M. Nixon a 2-way boost in his drive for the presidency — a clear-cut popularity victory over Sen. John F. Kennedy and a bigger vote than President Eisenhower rolled up in the 1956 primary.

Nixon's triumph was the most decisive scored in yesterday's list of party votes.

With 3,855 of the 4,261 Indiana precincts reported Nixon had 375,166 in the Republican count and Kennedy 303,186 on the Democratic side. That pushed Nixon past the 351,913 Eisenhower got four years ago. Kennedy, however, was well ahead of the 242,842 Sen.

French Leader Returns Home

World Prestige at New High but He Faces Home Crisis

Paris — President Charles de Gaulle returned today from a successful fence-mending tour in the new world to find plenty of repair work needed at home.

Seventeen fatiguing days in Canada, the United States and the French West Indies have built his overseas prestige to an all-time high. Now he faces an angry parliament and the need for bold new steps toward peace in Algeria, a firm course for the summit meeting and an easing of France's darkening farm crisis.

The 69-year-old president smiled broadly as he stepped from his plane after a 15-hour flight from Guadeloupe. Standing at the ramp were Premier Michel Debre and the rest of the cabinet.

Only about 300 persons were at the airport for the arrival although Paris civic leaders had called for a big welcome home. As his car swept into town, the president got scattered cheers from crowds along the way—mostly workers on the way to their jobs. Tomorrow the socialists and radicals will bring up in parliament a censure motion indirectly accusing de Gaulle of violating the constitution by refusing to grant the deputies' earlier demand for a special session to debate the farm problem.

Medical Care Program for Aged Offered

Participants Would Pay $24 Per Year For Full Coverage

Washington — The Eisenhower administration today proposed a $1,200,000,000 annual federal-state medical care program for the lower-income aged. Participants would pay $25 a year for coverage.

Married couples with an annual income above $3,800 would not be eligible for the program, or single persons with more than $2,500 income.

Sec. of Welfare Arthur S. Flemming outlined the administration plan to the house ways and means committee which is considering a variety of proposals for health programs for the aged.

State Programs
The plan contemplates that the states would work out detailed programs. A state could, for instance, provide for the health care through a private insurance company, or the state could run its own program.

Specifically, Flemming recommended that the federal government assist the states in establishing a medical care program for the aged in accordance with these specifications:

Eligibility for participation — The program to be open to all persons aged 65 and over who did not pay an income tax in the preceding year and to taxpayers 65 and over whose adjusted gross income, plus social security, railroad retirement benefits, and veterans pensions, in the preceding year did not exceed $2,500 for an individual or $3,800 for a couple.

Medical Expenses
Eligibility for benefits—Participants would be entitled to the benefits on health and medical expenses exceeding $250 a year for an individual or $400 for a couple.

Fond du Lac Woman Saves Infant From Death in Winnebago

Fond du Lac — Mrs. Ernest Fryman, babysitting for her son and daughter-in-law at a house trailer near here Tuesday, saw "a pair of feet tip out" of Lake Winnebago.

She ran to a pier, jumped into five feet of water and rescued Laurie Ohlrich, 2-year-old daughter of neighbors, who had fallen off the pier.

Mrs. Fryman applied artificial respiration to revive the girl, who later was able to walk to her mother's arms.

New York Police Carried off an unidentified woman who was arrested in City Hall park along with 25 other persons for refusing to take shelter in a Civil Defense alert Tuesday. Police said most of those arrested were conscientious objectors to nuclear tests.

State to be Asked To Cut Spending

Neenah's Draheim Says Proposal Alternative to Increasing Taxes

Madison — The Wisconsin legislature will be asked to enact a 10 per cent across-the-board cut in state spending when it reconvenes May 16 as an alternative to raising taxes. The proposal is being prepared by two Republican members of the legislature's influential joint finance committee—Sens. William Draheim of Neenah and Chester Dempsey of Hartland.

Draheim told the Associated Press Tuesday that details of the proposal, which must take the form of a joint resolution, had not been completely worked out.

"But we'll have it ready to throw out for consideration a short time after the legislature returns," he said.

Finance Committee
Draheim is co-chairman of the Finance Committee. He was in Madison in his role of

South Korean Ship Attacked By Communists

Believe Reds Were Attempting to Land Agents Behind Line

Seoul — A South Korean navy frigate today repelled a North Korean torpedo boat attack which the navy claimed was designed to cover an attempt to land red agents in the crisis-torn south.

The navy said the encounter was over in less than five minutes and the three attack craft fled into dense fog when the 1,200-ton frigate returned fire. The frigate suffered no crew casualties or material damage, a spokesman said. It was not known whether the attackers were hit.

Off East Coast
The Reds attacked 15 miles off the east coast, about two miles south of the truce demarcation line separating North and South Korea, the navy said.

The navy communique expressed belief the communists were trying to land spies or saboteurs in South Korea to "take advantage of the April 26 political upheaval."

Such naval clashes have taken place in the past, but it was the first red attack since the uprising following the March 15 presidential elections forced the resignation of President Syngman Rhee.

The navy gave this account of the attack:

"Taking advantage of dense fog, three communist North Korean torpedo boats surrounded and closed in on our PT66 (frigate) and fired five torpedoes and a round of 40 millimeter machinegun bullets in two attacks."

"Our vessel immediately countered with fierce shelling while zigzagging to dodge the torpedoes and repulsed the three communist boats."

Emergency Measures Taken

Muddy Rural Roads Maroon Farm Families, Mire Wagons, Tractors

Post-Crescent Staff Writer

Impassable roads in the northwestern corner of Outagamie county have marooned farmers. The mud choked roads are making it near impossible to get milk out of the farms and food for livestock and farm families in.

Children are missing school because buses can not negotiate the mud and part time farmers are losing time from their jobs in the cities.

County highway crews are attempting to make the roads passable by covering the mud with sand, but little progress is being made because the swampy roads cannot hold the heavy equipment.

One of the hardest hit roads is County Trunk XX, one of the arteries north of County Trunk F under constant pressure by farmers attempting to haul milk to waiting trucks on County Trunk F.

Highway Chairman
Edward Peotter, Sr., chairman of the county board highway committee, said the emergency operation of hauling sand to cover the mud will continue until the farmers are able to use the road.

Permanent improvement of the road — petitioned for by the farmers six years ago — will be done at the earliest possible date, he said, subject to the county board's approval. He said the road is listed for 1963 on the county's 5-year plan.

So bad are the conditions on County XX that at times as many as three big farm tractors are needed to pull out mired wagons hauling milk.

Worst Section
One of the worst sections of the road is about one block north of County F, where the road is at the same level as the water-filled fields on both sides. Because of the low level of the road, there is no place to drain the water.

Driving a tractor through the mud-hole involves a risk not only to expensive tractors but to the drivers as well. Many times tractors nearly tip as drivers accelerate to avoid becoming stuck.

Continual use of the road has created a number of deep holes invisible to the tractor drivers. Although most of the tractors often go out of control as front wheels are lifted by the strain of pulling the wagons.

Manure spreaders have been found to be the best type of milk wagons. The larger tires and higher boxes have less difficulty getting

More Clouds, More Cool Weather Coming

Wisconsin — Cloudy and cool with thundershowers over northern half of state today. Thursday turning cooler south. Outlook for Friday: Partly cloudy and cool.

Appleton — Temperatures for the 24-hour period ending at 9 a. m. today: High 57, low 41. Temperature at 10 a. m. today 55. Barometer reading 29.90 inches with wind south at 10 miles per hour.

Sun sets at 8:01 p. m., rises Thursday at 5:30 a. m.; moon sets Thursday at 2:44 a. m. Prominent star in Regulus. Visible planets are Jupiter, Saturn and Mars.

County Trunk XX in the Town of Deer Creek, Outagamie county, has been made impassable by deep mud and is taking a toll of farm vehicles that attempt to get through. Here three tractors are stalled in a typical stretch of the highway. Don Kempf, left, became stuck first and Kenneth Peters, right, was mired trying to rescue him. Dale Olson, center, came to the relief of both.

Byrnes, Laird Aim for High Jobs in GOP

Green Bay Man
Being Considered
For Vice President

BY JOHN WYNGAARD
Post-Crescent Staff Writer

Madison — Two young Wisconsin Republican congressmen are likely to figure with unusual prominence at the Republican national convention in July in Chicago.

Republican colleagues of Rep. John W. Byrnes, Green Bay, leader of the Wisconsin house of representatives delegation and senior Wisconsin congressman in point of service, plan to nominate him for the vice presidency.

Byrnes' rank and influence in the party have risen rapidly during the last year. He now is the chairman of the Republican policy committee of the house of representatives, and has had increasing mention in the national press as a prospective vice presidential nominee on the ticket headed by Richard Nixon.

Considering Laird
He and Nixon are old friends. They were associates when Nixon was a representative from California at the start of his career.

Wisconsin Republicans are optimistic about the boom on behalf of Rep. Melvin R. Laird of Marshfield for the position of chairman of the platform committee of the national party convention.

Laird served as a member of the platform committee at the convention four years ago. He is a member of the key committee on appropriations of the house. In recent newsletters he has pointedly refuted some news dispatches that had suggested that Nixon was cool toward the Laird selection. The vice president has denied the truth of such reports, the congressman said.

Originally the Byrnes' vice presidential boom was talked about by his friends. But there is a growing conviction that the nomination of the Wisconsin congressional veteran may take hold seriously in the national party organization, depending on the ticket decisions of the Democrats who will this year hold their convention before the GOP rally.

Kenosha Rises 22 Per Cent in Population

A 22 per cent increase in Kenosha's population—from 54,368 to 66,381—was reported in census figures obtained by the Kenosha News. The county population increased from 75,162 in 1950 to 96,327 in the current census.

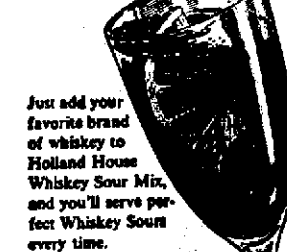

Green county's population now is set at 25,799 unofficially, compared with 24,123 in 1950.

The city of La Crosse lost 277 in population—to 47,258—during the decade, but suburban and rural gains were enough to give La Crosse county a 1960 total of 42,106—an increase of 4,519 over the 1950 census.

Gardner Dam Camp Season Not Far Off

Registrations
Being Taken at Council Office

The summer camping season at Gardner Dam camp, the Valley Boy Scout council camp north of Shawano, will begin June 26, according to Dwight Donelson, scout executive.

A group of between 50 and 60 volunteer workers from the Fox Cities will set up the camp and make necessary repairs May 21.

The 1,000-acre camp has six camp sites, a dining hall and kitchen, a lodge, handicraft shelter, archery range, boating facilities, swimming pool, health lodge and trading post.

New Ranger's Cabin
The newest addition to the camp is a $20,000 combination ranger's cabin and workshop built by donations from Fox Cities area individuals and business and equipped with donated tools.

Donelson said scouts may sign up for 1- or 2-week camp periods, but because advance reservation is necessary, may not sign up for one week and then decide to stay for two.

List Openings
The period between July 10 and July 23 already has been filled, Donelson said. There are 1- or 2-week openings between June 28 and July 9 and between July 24 and Aug. 6, when the season ends.

Registrations are being taken by mail or in person at the Valley council office, Boy Scouts of America, 108 W. College avenue.

A $2.50 reservation fee for six days and $5 fee for 13 days is required at the time of application. Total cost is $21 for six days and $42 for 13 days. No additional fee will be collected for camper insurance.

School District Repeal Drive Is Considered

Janesville Manager
Calls Meeting of Cities Affected

Madison —(AP)— Officials of several Wisconsin cities are considering a drive for repeal of a new law designed to bring all of the state's land area into high school districts.

City Manager Joseph Lustig of Janesville announced today he has invited officials of Appleton, Neenah, Oshkosh, Menasha, and 15 other cities to a Madison meeting Thursday. He said the law should be amended or repealed during the legislature's spring session.

Lustig said the objectionable part of the law permits suburban areas to annex for school purposes only

10 Officials Accept
"If outlying areas are annexed only for school purposes—the greatest single cost of local government—then they won't be interested in joining for all purposes," he said.

Lustig said 10 officials had agreed to attend. He identified them as the mayors of Neenah, Madison, Green Bay, LaCrosse, Stevens Point, the city managers of Eau Claire, Two Rivers and Beloit, and Racine's city attorney.

Invitations also were extended, he said, to officials in Appleton, Oshkosh, Fond du Lac, Manitowoc, Wausau, Menasha, Kenosha, Sheboygan and Marinette.

Affects Grand Chute

The law affects most of the town of Grand Chute, which is not in a high school district. Two small districts adjacent to the city of Appleton have been attached for school purposes only, and unless a referendum petition is filed this week or the Outagamie and Calumet county school committees' decision is protested in court, the Badger and Triangle districts west of the city will be attached for school purposes as of July 1.

The city can move for total annexation of areas attached for school purposes.

Store Operator Admits Selling Pistol to Youth

George Krautkramer, 50, of 830 W. Fourth street, has admitted selling a .22 caliber target pistol to a 17-year-old boy in his hardware store at 135 E. College avenue and was fined $25.

Appleton police charged Krautkramer after interrogating a 17-year-old whose mother found the pistol in his possession. The boy told police he bought the pistol at the hardware store for $37 and told Krautkramer he was 18 years old.

State law prohibits sale of firearms to minors.

State to be Asked To Cut Spending

ed in the tax structure it'll stay there," Draheim said. "That's the history of taxes."

Draheim said he believed other Republican senators held the same view and also would oppose enactment of Nelson's proposal.

If the fight comes about and there are no other suggestions, Draheim said, the spending cutback might be the "best way" to avoid another legislative deadlock over finances.

At the second district GOP caucus in Fort Atkinson last week, Dempsey told the Associated Press he felt a 10 percent cut in spending for all state agencies and departments would be feasible.

"The conservation department did it," he said, "and it apparently hasn't suffered much."

The conservation department recently adopted a $21 million austerity program to keep it operating in the black even though the full $27 million budgeted for the department will not be available.

Draheim said he realized there might have to be some deviation from the 10 percent figure in trimming outlays for several departments but in general, he said, the figure could be made to average out "because some areas of spending could be cut out completely."

Reduce Deficit

He declined to identify the areas, saying "our thoughts in that direction haven't been crystallized yet."

Both Draheim and Dempsey said they expected a combination of lapsed balances available on July 1 and increases in anticipated income tax receipts to reduce the state's 23 1/2 million dollar deficit.

Draheim co-authoring the spending cutback proposal in the absence of "hoped for" recommendations from a citizens' committee on tax revision.

The committee, headed by Miller Upton of Beloit, decided Saturday to wait until the 1961 legislative session to submit its suggestions on tax structure.

"I know the committee had a big job to tackle," Draheim said, "but there's still no alternative to balancing the budget and cutting back spending would be a sensible way to do it."

Cut Expenses Politicians Urge State Runners

Fort Atkinson — Delegates at a Republican inter-county platform committee meeting Tuesday night said the GOP would have a difficult job in winning state offices this fall unless it stresses economy.

Leo Roethe of Fort Atkinson, Republican chairman in the 2nd district, proposed a flat 10 per cent in spending by all state agencies. He said lawmakers should set an example by cutting their salaries 10 per cent and then making state agencies do the same.

"The more you raise state salaries, the lower caliber men you get in the legislature," Roethe said.

Committee members also discussed a repeal of the state tax on oleomargarine if in return other states would guarantee to open fluid milk markets for Wisconsin dairy farmers. They also said the 1960 platform should strive for open markets for Wisconsin milk in eastern and southern areas of the U. S.

Payment Told for Cranberry Crop

Washington — The agriculture department today announced it will make payments up to $8.02 a barrel on the 1959 crop of cranberries.

The payment was authorized March 30 by the White House to indemnify growers who suffered losses due to last fall's cranberry scare.

The food and drug administration halted cranberry sales for a week to determine whether they were free of a chemical weedkiller which FDA said could cause cancer in rats. A small percentage of berries was found to be contaminated.

The cranberry payments are expected to total about $10 million. The crop is grown principally in Massachusetts, New Jersey, Wisconsin and Oregon.

what political observers earlier described as minor opposition. But that opposition took heavy chunks from Kennedy's vote.

States rights candidates led loyalist candidates in Alabama's primary for Democratic presidential electors. In Florida, both a states rights man and a racial moderate won the right to enter the Democratic runoff for governor.

In Indiana, Nixon piled up a huge Republican popular vote, outpolling Kennedy's Democratic vote by a good margin.

The state is traditionally Republican, but Kennedy had campaigned hard and had predicted he would outpoll Nixon.

Separate Ballots

The two candidates were on separate ballots and each had their man had shown he could win the state in the November election.

In the District of Columbia, Humphrey had a decisive edge over Sen. Wayne Morse of Oregon in the Democratic presidential preference vote.

With 100 of 142 Democratic ballot boxes recorded, Humphrey had 4,065 votes and Morse had 2,825 votes.

Some Support

But a Democrat unlisted on the ballot, Adlai Stevenson, also showed he had support in the nation's capital.

A slate of convention delegates pledged to him held second place behind the Humphrey slate. There even was a possibility one Stevenson candidate might capture a delegate spot.

But, since the District of Columbia's Democrats vote under the unit rule, Humphrey was certain to have the city's nine votes at the Democratic national convention in July.

Youth's Fate Placed in Jury's Hands

West Palm Beach, Fla. — The fate of Dennis Whitney, swaggery, 17-year-old confessed killer of seven persons, will be placed in the hands of a jury today after final arguments.

State Atty. Phil O'Connell will demand the death penalty for the pimply-faced California youth in the killing of Mrs. Virginia Selby, for which he is charged with first degree murder.

Defense Lawyer Charles Nugent has conceded that Whitney killed the 62-year-old Hialeah grandmother, but he will appeal for a verdict on a lesser degree of homicide.

Trying to maintain his tough guy composure, but obviously straining to hold back tears, Whitney took the stand Tuesday to relate how he jumped into Mrs. Selby's car in a Miami parking lot, drove 80 miles north to Jupiter, then killed her.

Says He's Sorry

He insisted that he was sorry, that he hadn't wanted to kill her, but had shot her only after she found a claw hammer on the floor board and smashed him in the face.

Nugent said there had been no proof of premeditation. A verdict carrying anything less than the death penalty probably would mean that Dade county (Miami) authorities will attempt to try Whitney for the killing of two service station attendants in the Miami area. He also confessed three slayings in Arizona and one in California.

through the mud. Lower wagons are more easily mired.

The 4-mile stretch of County XX has about seven places where it is almost impossible for even the biggest tractors to plow through.

Conditions are becoming progressively worse. In addition to being without fire protection (it would be impossible for a fire truck to use the highway), some of the 22 families also are in need of food for themselves and their livestock.

Henry Koehler, whose farm is in the middle of the worst area, said there is a danger of his livestock starving for lack of roughage. He explained his supply of hay is completely gone and because of high water in his low-lands there is virtually no pasture for his cattle.

Bad Since Easter

The farmers entering the road conditions were bad since before Easter. In some cases, the children have not been to school since before Easter because school buses have been unable to pass over the roads.

One of the major fears of the farmers is sickness. They pointed out that if there were emergency illness, they may not be able to get the patient to good roads in time.

Although County XX is the subject of most of the criticism, town roads also are in bad condition. In one instance, the farmers are driving across field to bypass a corner which has a deep mud-hole.

Road Swallows Rocks

In the meantime, some of the farmers are trying to get the roads back in condition. They figured large stones in the deep mud would help bridge the bad holes but when they unloaded several wagon-loads of rocks in the holes the mud swallowed them.

The farmers claim the mud crisis is causing them financial loss. They said the rough usage of the tractors is causing them to spring out of shape and that repairs will be needed before they start working the fields.

One family vacated its farm to move in with relatives to the children can go to school. Commuters to jobs in the cities also complain about loss of work because they are unable to use the roads.

Continue Talks On South African Racial Problem

London — Private talks on South Africa's racial policies began today between leaders of the British Commonwealth and Foreign Minister Eric Louw of South Africa.

Although the violence stirred up by white supremacy rule in South Africa is not a formal item on the agenda of the commonwealth prime ministers conference, it dominates all other topics.

The commonwealth leaders have agreed to avoid any public condemnation of South Africa policies. But they hope through private conversations to convince Louw of a need to modify the South African government's relationship of its Negro population.

Louw intends to defend apartheid (racial segregation) but he was expected to give some indication of changes in its administration to improve the lot of the Negro.

This was the second day of the 10-day conference attended by leaders from 11 countries.

Disappointment at Madison

There will be widespread disappointment about the inability of the Citizens Revenue Study Commission, named with heavy fanfare a year ago to chart a course on the central problem of Wisconsin public affairs, to come to grips with the essentials of state and local tax revision.

The commission now has made it crystal clear that it won't present its findings or recommendations for many more months, not because it cannot, but because it does not want to do so.

The ostensible crutch upon which its delay is rationalized is that the issue of existing tax distribution must be studied, and that census data through which alternative changes may be tested won't be available until fall — if they are available then. Observing the nervousness of some of the politicians on the commission and the gasps of relief with which they grasped the excuse, the public has a right to be skeptical about its legitimacy.

With all respect to Mr. Doyle, who made some good points on the matter of inequities in present tax distribution, the commission could and should proceed with other matters now.

It is true that there are unjustified "tax islands" around the state now because of the arbitrary distribution formulas in effect. They should be adjusted. They can be adjusted. But they are not central to the issue. Nor are they inseparable from the revision question. This commission was set up on a permanent basis. It probably can find enough important work to continue its studies for the next four or five years. But additional avenues of study should not, and were not intended to interfere with the central fact that the state needs a total revision of its basic tax policies — as Gov. Nelson proposed and as most of his political rivals admit.

There can be no slightest doubt remaining among legislators, candidates, local government officials and observant private citizens that the time has come for a refashioning of the property and income tax structure to give it balance, on the one hand, and more productivity for changing times, on the other.

There can be no doubt among those who have given even cursory attention to these matters in recent years that the only realistic method will be by the incorporation of a sales tax, with ameliorating adjustments, into that basic tax family.

But it also is as clear as anything in our contemporary local politics that politicians are afraid of the issue, are convinced that the public doesn't grasp it, and are desperately anxious to defer it as long as possible.

Thus the great need is to get it on the board, so to speak, to bring it out into the light of day for public discussion and dissection. Gov. Nelson is perfectly right when he says no such drastic surgery upon the revenue system ever will be performed until there is a complete public discussion and understanding. Nor should it be.

But it cannot reach the popular forum if this commission insists on keeping it under the rug and refuses to face up to the obvious implications of its position. For the last couple of months the members of this group have with eager relish and some grandstanding voted for such brave and generous gestures as homestead tax exemptions, repeal of huge chunks of personal property tax liability, higher school aids, the relieving of local government budgets of responsibility for public assistance, and others to the tune of up to $150,000,000 in tax equivalent.

We imagine that the eighth grade civic student can comprehend the facts of life here — including the transparent fact that this largesse is not possible unless the state has a sales tax or some derivative thereof.

As we find the commission members pulling and hauling and ducking for cover, we wonder why some of them accepted the governor's invitation to serve in the first instance. They are clearly unhappy and uncomfortable.

Sen. Morse on Ethics for Public Officials

Sen. Morse of Oregon is one of the 14 Democratic senators who joined with Sen. Proxmire of Wisconsin in voting against the confirmation of James R. Durfee to be associate judge of the United States Court of Claims. Proxmire's 1-man assault on the Durfee nomination turned out to be a ridiculous piece of grandstanding. Although the committee which had heard all of the evidence was unanimous in supporting the nomination, and in spite of the fact that the President and the Department of Justice had carefully reviewed all of the facts in advance of making the nomination, Proxmire carried on to the extent of holding the Senate up for an entire day so that he could read 50 pages of review which contained nothing new about the case.

Nevertheless he was joined by 14 Democratic senators in voting "No." On the same day the vote was taken, and as Sen. Morse was recorded as voting against Durfee, Rep. Ashley, a Democrat from Ohio, had something to say about Democrat Morse from Oregon. Rep. Ashley called Sen. Morse "a high-paid handyman" for Teamsters Union President James R. Hoffa. Ashley said that Morse took $500 from the Teamsters Union at Toledo to support Ashley's Democratic primary opponent, Frank Rossler, a Teamster.

He charged that Sen. Morse to all intents and purposes "is on Hoffa's personal payroll." He said, "The so-called lecture fees he received from Hoffa-controlled locals must amount to $1,000 a year." Morse of course went to Toledo and made the speech and collected the $500. He admits all of those things and attempts to pass it off with the statement that that is his regular fee charged for lectures everywhere. It is interesting to note, however, that Morse was one of only two United States senators who voted against the Landrum-Griffin labor bill which Hoffa so heartily detests. Morse, replying to Ashley, says that Ashley was as "wrong in his attack on me as he was when he voted for the Kennedy-Landrum-Griffin bill."

It seems everyone is out of step in the United States Senate excepting Morse. He is the only living senator at the moment who voted against the labor reform measure and Morse makes it clear why he feels he is right when he has this to say about Rep. Ashley: "In that vote he cut the jugular vein of the strong labor support he had when he was first elected to Congress." In other words, Sen. Morse gives no consideration to the principles involved. He believes a person is wrong if he risks labor support by his vote.

What would Sen. Morse or Sen. Proxmire have said if Mr. Durfee had accepted $500 from the Air Line company for going on an inaugural trip and making a greeting speech in Rome or Mexico City? If senators are going to act as guardians of Washington's official morals they will have to look to their own conduct very carefully.

A Cycle Completed

Modern military technology notwithstanding, it would appear that the science of war weaponry has completed something of a cycle.

Two announcements from widely separated points but dealing with the same topic reached our desk the same day.

In Salt Lake City, Utah, it was reported that members of a special unit of the Utah National Guard have been issued bows and arrows.

From Washington comes the word that the army is testing new body armor composed of titanium plates and nylon fabric — a sort of iron suit.

Taken separately the items are interesting enough but when put together one can see that military men may be thinking of wartime combat resembling that of the days of King Arthur.

Consider for a moment the picture of a bow and arrow-armed infantryman stalking a foe dressed in a suit of armor. By this yardstick Sir Launcelot and Robin Hood can't be considered pikers after all.

Actually, there is some sound thinking in back of both developments. Soldier-archers will be trained to drop behind enemy lines to organize guerrilla fighters and the swift, silent arrow is the best weapon for the job, according to military planners.

The body armor, say the specialists, will reduce by 11 per cent the neck wounds suffered by combatants. The vests could be teamed with special shoes with steel inserts to protect against the arch-shattering effects of land mines.

Robin Hood and Sir Launcelot, take a bow.

What Others are Saying

Laird Subscribes to Liberal Philosophy of Jefferson

From The Washington Post, May 3, 1960

Political labels are often-times misleading. Webster's dictionary says that the word "liberal" is derived from the Greek word "liberos" meaning "free, befitting a man of free birth." A liberal education among the Greeks was an education only for free men — the slaves were not entitled to an education. Webster now defines a liberal as one who "believes in great freedom" for the individual.

"In political and religious matters."

In this year 1960, we have an anomalous situation where those individuals tagged with the title "conservative" or "right winger" are fighting to maintain the freedom of the individual. The 1960 conservatives in their fight for the freedoms guaranteed by our constitution are today the real modern-day liberals. Most of the "self-styled liberals" or "left wingers" are drifting rapidly toward the enslavement of the individual through public debt, increased centralized government, and surrender to powerful self-interested voting blocks.

Thomas Jefferson was typical of the true liberals of the past century. Jefferson hated and feared centralized government. His liberal faith included freedom of enterprise which unleashed the creative energies of our citizens and resulted in a burst of economic development. This true liberal faith left the state-dominated economic system of the world trailing far behind the United States. Every effort is made by me to dissociate myself from the self-styled liberal philosophy of the 1960's.

Daylight Saving Bad For Children

Editor, Post-Crescent:

Some people were so worried about their children's teeth some years past, but how about our 6-year-olds health, who must rise at the ungodly hour of 5 o'clock and walk one-fourth or more mile in rain or shine for the 6 o'clock bus that daylight savers call 7 o'clock. Even if they go to bed 1 hour earlier, their system just doesn't comply with those hours and how about the mothers getting up at 4 a.m. to get breakfast, pack lunch and supervise their flock to be on time.

Couldn't we compromise, by writing to our congressmen, and senators to change daylight saving time to begin the first Sunday in June, and end the first Sunday in September so the 6-year-olds would have a suitable schedule which would not be detrimental to their health, and studies.

It raises speculation as to the nationality of that "abominable snowman" who ranges about the Nepalese high peaks. If he looks as fierce as described by natives who have spotted him, then how could he be distinguished from a Chinese communist? (Could it be he's a Red agent anyway?)

Ought Slavery be Protected?

100 YEARS AGO
Quoted from the Appleton Crescent for the week of May 5, 1860.

Ought Slavery to be protected in the Territories?

This question has frequently been asked within the past week. We believe, and we think nine-tenths of the Democracy of the North-West agree with us, that a Territorial Legislature cannot legally refuse to protect all species of property, and that the courts will so hold whenever a case arises.

When the Territory assumes the powers of a State Sovereignty, it can say what is property and what is not, but until that time it is a serious question whether the article recognized as property in Maine and Louisiana is not on an equal footing in the Territory.

It is a pure law question and it is absurd for political conventions to be wasting time in passing resolutions upon it one way or another.

Seyberth May Seek State Senate Post

BY JOHN WYNGAARD

Madison — Political pot-pourri:

Leonard Seyberth of Eau Claire, the former chairman of the state conservation commission, probably will run for Republican nomination for state senator in his district with the encouragement of influential party men in that section.

Justice Thomas E. Fairchild of the state supreme court will return to the political limelight in his capacity as chairman of Gov. Nelson's constitutional revision study commission. If Jack Olson is sworn in as governor next January, he hopes and intends, the ceremony will come during the centennial year of his family's emigration to this country. His great-grandparents came from Norway to North Dakota in 1861.

Some Wisconsin delegates to the Democratic national convention are talking about chartering a plane for their travel, in order to soften the probably heavy expense of their junket. One of the most skeptical of politicians where public opinion polls are concerned is Gov. Gaylord Nelson. George Thompson, the LaCrosse county district attorney who is campaigning for the Republican nomination for state attorney general is descended from a family long prominent in public life in the western part of the state.

ROETHE LEADS

Leo Roethe, Fort Atkinson businessman and second district GOP chairman, is one of the rising figures in the Republican party organization. Roethe's second district party convention last week was one of the most effectively planned and run and best attended that old-timers in the cause ever have seen. Philip Drothing, former press aide and executive secretary to several Republican governors, is returning to the Wisconsin wars as a campaign assistant to Philip Kuehn, the Republican gubernatorial candidate.

Ivan Kindscher, young Dane county farmer and Republican leader, will be heard from in party councils in the future. Charles Schultz, the old-line CIO leader and now vice-chairman of the merged AFL-CIO, is sure to be relieved of his duties when the big labor organization votes on its officers at the Green Bay convention in August, according to union insiders. The "Old Bob LaFollette" memorial tree in state capitol park, a swamp hickory, is withering in spite of the best efforts of the statehouse grounds crew.

WILEY PLANS

The depth of Sen. Alexander Wiley's current activities leave no doubt in the minds of the politicians that the veteran senator is preparing for yet another election campaign in 1962. The state department of economic development reports an enormous response from Wisconsin businessmen in space-buying for a state promotion edition of a national newspaper magazine in June.

The next move is apparently up to Gov. Nelson in the squabble about whether Reuben Knutson of the state industrial commission is eligible to stay in that office. The Republican state senate declined to confirm Nelson's nomination of a man to replace Knutson, holding that the veteran commissioner's term has several years to run. Old-time legislative hands are uniformly pessimistic about the outlook for a quick finish of the legislative session starting on May 16. The temptation to make political hay in a campaign year will be irresistible to the politicians, it is feared.

A big new trade association of retail stores is being formed, under the impetus of the retailers' desire for legalization of their new credit charge practices. Mike Griffin, Green Bay television personality, has turned over overtures for a candidacy for congressman on the Democratic ticket in the eighth district. Wisconsin Republicans are optimistic about the chances of Rep. Melvin R. Laird of Marshfield to become chairman of the platform committee of the Republican national convention. State Sen. Kirby Hendee of Milwaukee will be chosen chairman of the state GOP convention in Milwaukee next month, as a publicity contribution to his congressional campaign.

New Residential Areas Indicate Feet Obsolete

From The Denver Post

The man who said human feet were becoming obsolete had it wrong. They are already. If you don't believe it, take a look at some of our new residential areas. If man still had good use of his feet, wouldn't there be some sidewalks there? Well, there aren't very many. And those that are there are mighty skimpy indeed, like glorified curbs.

We got interested in this problem through the sad tale of a friend of ours, who found himself about a mile from his East Denver home, and seeing it was a nice day, decided to walk, rather than call a cab or take the bus.

He made it home, all right, but his feet were pretty ruffled after half an hour of breathing dust and gasoline fumes, having his ears assaulted by the roar of moving vans and drag-racing teenagers, and dodging autos at every intersection (apparently most drivers considered him an interloper without rights) and children, bicycles and dogs in between.

When he got home, he nearly threw his feet away. He's now taken the pledge not to use them except at home, at the office and on the golf course.

$8 Million in State Highway Work Set

Construction for 1960 Season to Start About May 15, Empey Says

Construction for the 1960 highway program in Green Bay district 3 of the state highway department will begin about May 15, according to L. W. Empey, district engineer.

He said the program of construction, engineering and purchase of right-of-way will cost about $8 million. This is less than the amount spent in the district in the past four years, mainly a result of cut-backs ordered by the federal government.

Because of the delay in financing, some projects scheduled for this year are already about one month behind the construction schedule.

Empey noted that several of the projects for this year were started in 1959 and will be completed this summer. Following is a report of construction planned in the district by counties:

Outagamie County

Appleton — east county line, from Highway 10 to McCarthy's Crossing, proposed Highway 41. Various structures under contract and grading to be let during summer or fall of 1960 for completion in 1961. Surfacing contract to be let to contract as funds are made available.

Structure contracts:

Chicago and North Western overhead and county farm overpass, Pfeiffer Brothers Construction company, Neenah, $94,151.70.

Soo Line overhead, Roland Bloick and Sons, Appleton, $88,927.80.

Third avenue overhead and County Trunk A overhead, Farmer Brothers, Tomah, $158,821.80.

Northland avenue overhead, with Zachek Construction company, Denmark, $108,795.60.

Meade street overhead, County Trunk E overhead, French road overhead, Pfeiffer Construction company, Neenah, $218,445.30.

Town road overhead, Vandenberg road overhead, County Trunk N overhead, George M. Hougard and Son, Inc., $245,314.

South County Line — Highway 10 (from Winnebago - Outagamie county line north to 10). Highway 41, 1.523 miles and W. Wisconsin avenue in Appleton (from Richmond street west to Badger avenue). Highway 86 0.998 miles. Resurfacing old lane on Highway 41 and existing pavement

Strep Infection Precedes Rheumatic Fever, Says Doctor

By Joseph G. Molner, M. D.

"Dear Dr. Molner: Would moving to Arizona help a person who has rheumatic fever and who lives in the mid-west? He had it 15 years ago and apparently suffered no after-effects until about a year ago.

"He is now in his 30s and seems to be Dr. Molner getting worse. What can be done?—Mrs. H. R."

Let's be sure we don't confuse rheumatic fever and rheumatism. They aren't the same at all.

Rheumatic fever is an inflammatory disease which follows a streptococcus infection. Or, rather, let's put it the other way round: Rheumatic fever is always preceded by a strep infection, although, of course, not all strep infections develop into rheumatic fever.

In the acute phase of rheumatic fever, the patient may (or may not) have joint pains. But the important thing is inflammation of the heart. As the inflammation subsides, it may leave scars on the heart valves, so that they no longer operate efficiently.

Danger of Disease

May—not will — for some rheumatic fever patients recover with little or no discernible heart damage.

But herein lies the danger. Once a person has had an attack, he is more likely to have others, and these he must guard against. Each attack, even an attack so slight that it is not recognized at the time, can add to the scarring of the heart valves.

The only way to avoid rheumatic fever is to avoid strep infections. Only in recent years have we been able to do this, but today there are thousands of recovered rheumatic fever victims who are taking monthly doses of long-acting penicillin, thus constantly protected against strep.

This method prevents us to say that at least there is a way of controlling the disease.

In addition, some hearts damaged by rheumatic fever can be repaired by surgery—but how much better it is to to arrange the sale and distribution of the 1960 special stamps in the Americas.

This program, unprecedented in philatelic history, is taking place without the aid and cooperation of the Soviet bloc of nations.

August Lindt, the UN's high commissioner for refugees, said the Russians are not participating because most of the refugees have fled from communist countries.

A majority of the special refugee stamps will have a common symbol—an uprooted tree—to convey the plight of the millions of displaced persons.

To show the extent of world cooperation in this stamp program, the Vatican City postal administration announced it would donate all of the proceeds from its refugee stamps to the U.N.

The Philippines has issued a set of two triangular stamps in honor of the 25th anniversary of the Philippine constitution. The central design features the constitution surrounded by a cluster of 25 leaves. The 6 cents for regular mail is sepi and gold. The 30-cent airmail is blue and silver.

Monaco has issued a 6-value set of stamps to commemorate the 50th anniversary of the Oceanographic museum. The designs show the museum entrance, museum displays, museums conference room, fishermen hoisting a fish trap, museum front and fish; Prince Albert I and two ships used in scientific work.

Special Issues of 70 Nations Honor World Refugee Year

BY SYD KRONISH

World Refuge Year received a philatelic salute last week when 70 nations issued special stamps for the occasion.

The object of these stamps is to call attention to the plight of refugees all over the globe and to their need for rehabilitation.

The United States is one of the stamp-issuing nations. Interesting to collectors is the fact that approximately 40 of the 70 nations have promised to allocate a quantity of their items for special sale by the United Nations.

The proceeds derived from the sale of these stamps will go directly to the United Nations World Refugee Year program.

Jacques Minkus, president of Minkus Publications and World Wide Philatelic agency, has been appointed by the United Nations high commissioner

Accept Fact of Palsy Squarely, Doctor Says

Milwaukee —Dr. A. professor of pediatrics at Harvard university said Tuesday parents can hinder the development of a child with cerebral palsy or nervous disorders as well as a normal, healthy youngster by setting goals which are too high for them to achieve.

"That is the real tragedy of a great many cerebral palsy victims," Dr. Randolph K. Byers told physicians at the 118th meeting of the State Medical society. "It is wrong for parents to trick themselves into believing a child can someday do everything another child can do even though he has cerebral palsy."

Dr. Byers said it is not easy for parents to accept the hard, cold fact that their child has a disability, but added they would do the youngster more good by facing the problem squarely.

He mentioned children who could not walk until they were seven or eight years old and those handicapped by hearing defects brought on by the disease. Dr. Byers said that just because a child can hear a telephone ring it does not mean there is nothing wrong with his hearing.

James Megellas of Fond du Lac, an executive director of the Democratic party of Wisconsin, praised the Forand bill to provide hospital and medical care for aged persons on social security.

The Forand bill, authored by Rep. Aime J. Forand (D-R), would boost social security taxes to pay for medical care.

Megellas said many older Americans receive no more than $75 per month in social security benefits and have to postpone or do without needed medical care. He said the bill would prevent the elderly from having to suffer the indignity of taking a pauper's oath in order to get medical treatment.

State Sen. Kirby Hendee (R-Milwaukee) said a measure such as the Forand bill should be adopted only if voluntary plans fail to accomplish the job. He said they had not. Hendee said that in his area 40 per cent of persons over 65 are now covered by voluntary health insurance plans and that by 1970 between 70 per cent and 80 per cent of the aged will be covered by some voluntary plan.

3-Hearted Fish Helps Hearts of Others

San Diego, Calif. — The hagfish has three hearts.

One has no nerves, and has been kept beating outside the fish for days by researchers.

They have also found, Jeffrey D. Frautschy, assistant director of Scripps Institution of Oceanography, told the San Diego Propeller club that pulverized hagfish heart rejuvenates hearts of other small creatures when given as a drug.

The hagfish is about a foot long and resembles an eel.

Give Deputies Rough Battle

Tucson, Ariz. — Two little old ladies gave sheriff's deputies a battle before being hauled into county court.

Officers said they received a call that Mrs. Callie Baker, 88, and Mrs. Elizabeth Mudge, 72, were firing a revolver at the rear of their home.

When deputies ordered them to stop shooting, Mrs. Baker fired twice more.

Officers then attempted to grab her gunhand. Mrs. Baker hit one officer in the face with a left book and bashed the other in the lip with the pistol.

Mrs. Mudge joined in by leaping on the back of the deputies and swinging way with both fists.

While the ladies were being booked for disturbing the peace, Mrs. Baker tossed a chair at a deputy.

Scientists Study Sea Creature's Fossils To Learn History

La Jolla, Calif. — An Atlas of world climatic conditions existing 150 million years ago is being prepared at the University of California's Scripps Institution of Oceanography.

Robert Bowen, English paleontologist working on the project with support from the atomic energy commission and the National Science foundation studies fossils of an extinct sea creature called Belemnoid. They are found on every continent and the chemical components of their shells, which varied with temperatures, gives the climate clues.

Lawrence Says Executives
Aid in Support
Of Government

24 Men are Paying
$7 Million Yearly
To U. S. Treasury

BY DAVID LAWRENCE

Washington — If 24 persons get together and decided to give away approximately $7 million a year — the money to be used for everything related to the "general welfare" — it would certainly be worthy of mention. Maybe they would even be hailed in their respective communities as public benefactors.

There are many groups of 24 public benefactors each year remain anonymous. They, therefore, get no accolades from their countrymen. Were it not for the fact that the securities and exchange commission is required by law to make public the incomes received by the executives in American business, there would be no way to estimate how much is annually given away by these men to the treasury of the United States to be expended for any purposes that the government may choose.

At the top of the list is Frederic G. Donner, chairman of General Motors corporation, who last year gave nearly $300,000 to the federal government. This was almost three times what he himself retained.

One finds in addition to Mr.

Donner a substantial number on the "honor roll." Among them are several high officials of General Motors corporation, Ford Motor company, Bethlehem Steel corporation, Zenith Radio corporation, United Merchants and Manufacturers, Republic Steel, DuPont, Colgate-Palmolive company, Union Carbide, Gulf Oil corporation and others whose contributions to the treasury range from $448,000 to $311,000.

Some individuals give away large sums to private charity, and this would lessen the amounts given to the U.S. treasury. But, generally speaking successful American businessmen, under a free-enterprise system, contribute to their government and private charity.

Not so many years ago it was considered a good salary if an executive in a big industry received $75,000 a year. Actually, very few executives today retain the equal of that amount in purchasing power. The dollar today is worth only 47 cents as compared with the dollar of 1936. Union members in many industries, on the other hand, get around three times what they used to earn in 1936, so they are not affected as much by the drop in purchasing power of the dollar.

The story would not be complete without referring to the opportunity the executives have in many businesses to buy the stock of their companies. Were it not for such incentives, the enthusiasm of the managers of American business would long ago have faltered.

Today there are relatively few rich men with inherited wealth. The chance to accumulate large fortunes is rare, and the average man could not, in the few years he is at the top-level position, possibly save enough out of his salary to accumulate $1,000,000 for himself. But that same individual will alone in ten years accumulate for the treasury of the United States the sum of approximately $5,000,000.

Maybe it's time that some kind of award be given to each of the men in America who in 10 or 15 years earn a total of $5,000,000 for Uncle Sam's unrestricted use and for charity. Every taxpayer can figure for himself the total he has contributed to the federal and state governments in the last 10 or 15 years.

Anne Frank's
Home Opened

Tourists Can See Where Famed Girl
Wrote Her Diary

Amsterdam, Netherlands—(AP)—The Amsterdam house where Anne Frank, hidden from the Nazis, wrote her famous diary was opened to the public Tuesday.

With tears in his eyes her father, Otto Frank, said: "The thought of everything that happened here in this house is too overwhelming. I only can thank all who made it possible to preserve this house from demolition, or restoring it and using it not only as a memorial but as a building in which the ideals of Anne will find their realization."

Frank himself is president of an International Youth Center that will be housed in an adjacent building.

Anne's diary, published in some 30 nations, including Germany, ended on Aug. 4, 1944, when Nazi police raided the house.

Of all the occupants, Anne's father alone returned from the concentration camps. After the liberation, the diary was found lying on the floor among a pile of old books, magazines and newspapers.

Members of the Anne Frank foundation said the house will probably become a memorial for youth of the world. At present, it will be open to the public for two hours every day. Students will guide visitors through the bare rooms where the Frank family and some other Jews lived.

Conviction of Dance Caller
Upheld by Court

Madison — (AP)—The conviction of a Milwaukee square dance caller, charged with attempting to murder his girl friend's husband, was upheld Tuesday by the state supreme court.

In a unanimous decision, the high court said it was "satisfied from a thorough study of the record that there was no prejudicial error" in the trial of Edward Dunn, 43.

Judge George Johnson of the municipal court for western Waukesha county sentenced Dunn to 15 years in state prison. Dunn was accused of trying to strangle Clyde Pfeiffer two months before with a wire noose. The noose broke and Pfeiffer survived the assault.

During his trial last October, Mrs. Pfeiffer, 35-year-old mother of two children, described her months-long affair with the truck driver and said Dunn had planned on two previous occasions to kill her husband.

Post-Crescent Staff Writer

Since I have cast my lot with this newspaper in January of 1959, I have written a total of more than 350,000 words—enough to fill seven books. Please do not suggest that they would be very bad books because that is not the reason for today's column; I am not soliciting sassy remarks.

The burden of today's column is words and people who write them. A total of seven books written in a period of a year and five months is a tidy stint, indeed, but my output of 350,000 words is not sufficient to earn a kudos. There have been more prolific fellows.

Horatio Alger, Jr., wrote a whopping total of 119 full-length novels in a 30-year period—almost four books per year. In addition to this prodigious output, Horatio busied himself with the writing of hundreds of short stories, magazine articles and poetry. In one period, Horatio hacked out a full length novel in just 40 days, which is not very distant from the output in this column in a similar period of time.

At any rate, although Horatio was a hack writer of small ability, his name was a very important one in most American homes for the gist of his tales was the honorable country boy making good in the big city. The hack eyed rags-to-riches stories sold nearly 20,000,000 copies.

Another prolific purveyor of the printed word was Harlan P. Halsey, who wrote 650 dime novels. Most of them were detective stories on "The Old Sleuth" and none was worthy enough to linger into today except perhaps on the bromide private eye shows which are, as has been said, "chewing gum for the eyes."

At any rate, Horatio has won the title for being the most prolific author in American history.

Belgian-Born Author

But George Simenon, a Belgian-born author with larger skills and greater abilities, wrote more than Horatio. Though his works are of very real literary merit, Simenon has turned out an average of 10 novels a year for more than 30 years. And, during one 10-year period of energetic application, Simenon—then aged 19 to 29—wrote some 200 novels and short stories.

Because writing styles and taste change from time to time, it is now somewhat difficult to read the works of authors in other periods, and this includes Victor Hugo who also was a prolific fellow who could write on and on.

In going over his works, I have found a prodigious sentence, so long, so flowery, so involved that it would not be permitted to appear un-

MORE CAR!

LESS MONEY

If you can afford a Ford, Chevrolet or Plymouth—you can now afford a new Mercury for less money.

changed in this newspaper. The sentence, in "Les Misérables" contains 823 words. It covers three pages and includes 53 commas, 51 semicolons, four dashes, and (at last!), one period.

Edited Version

With today's opposition to flowery prose, especially in newspapers, Hugo's sentence would have been and could have been changed to read: "He was a man of high morals."

I must not cause the reader to infer that being windy and pretentious is equal to being competent, for many a man who has written mountains of words has done it badly.

Perhaps the longest book ever written by one person was "Book of Kings," a prodigious labor by a Persian poet named Firdausi who used up 35 years in its production.

45-Volume Work

His book fills 45 volumes, but despite his lengthy effort, the book earned him never a dinar. Reason: Wounded pride.

It had been arranged between Firdausi and the Sultan Mahmud that the writer would be paid one gold piece for every line he wrote in the epic poem. When it evolved that his poem had 220,000 lines, Sultan Mahmud hatched down somewhat and offered to pay the poet one SILVER piece for every TWO lines. Firdausi gave him the Persian version of "The book with it," and there the matter stood.

There is a longer work than Firdausi's, but it may not count because it was composed over a period of hundreds of years by many different authors.

220,000-Line Poem

Also a poem, it seeks to tell the story of one King Bharata of ancient India and his descendants. The poem embraces 16 huge volumes, covers nearly 2,000 pages and contains 220,000 lines.

While it makes no difference to anybody whatsoever, it occurs to me that if I am around for another 25 years and do my scribbling at the same rate as now, I will have written the equivalent of 175 large books. And added to the number of words I have already written in my life as a newspaperman, the total should be somewhere near 300 full-sized books.

If you have been a reader as long as I have been a writer, and if you will remain a reader as long as I am a writer, I have a couple of words for you:

I apologize.

Lard Drippings Start Fire at Meat Plant

Chilton — The fire department was called at about 4:30 p.m. Tuesday to extinguish a blaze at Chilton Meat Service, E. Main street.

Peabody Manor Fund Reaches $367,233 Total

75 Per Cent of Campaign Goal in, Chairman Reports

The Peabody Manor building fund under the leadership of the Appleton Visiting Nurse association has reached $367,233 61, or 75 per cent of its $489,315 goal, Mrs. Harold A. Ornstein, chairman of the continuation committee, announced today.

Solicitations will continue in each of the campaign divisions in hopes of reaching the goal within the next 60 days, Mrs. Ornstein said. The campaign now is short $126,081.39 of its working goal.

Peabody Manor is the proposed home for the retired to be built this summer by the VNA on the northeast corner of W. Fifth and S. Locust streets. Construction of the 50-resident home is scheduled to begin no later than July. Headquarters for the Appleton VNA will be in a connecting wing of the structure.

Federal Grant

Included in the amount raised is a $100,000 federal grant under the Hill-Burton act to help defray the cost of the manor's 13-bed infirmary.

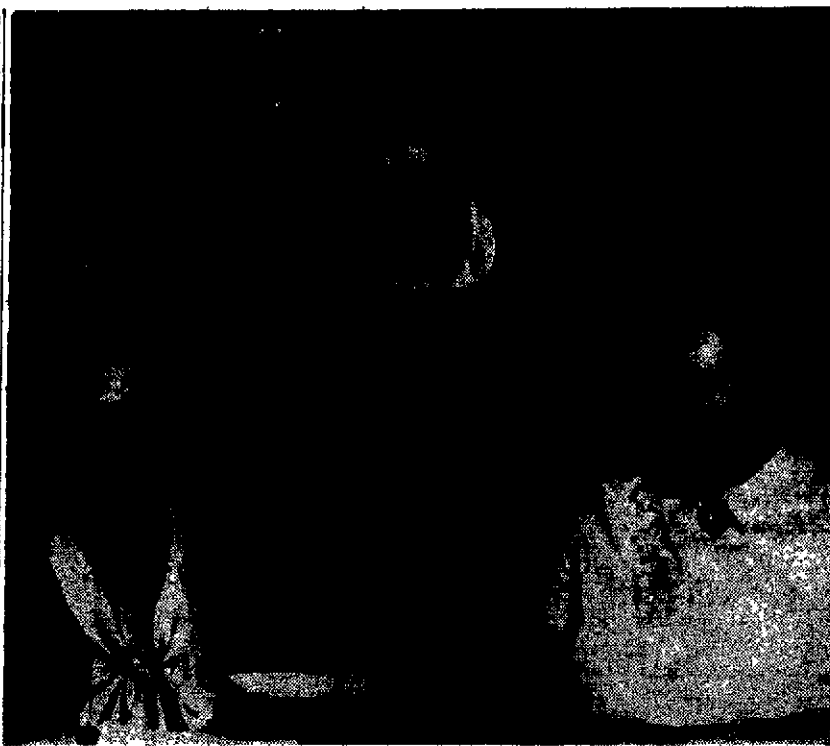

The first phase of the drive which ended March 25 brought in $338,847.

The manor will be open to residents over 65 of Outagamie county, Neenah and Menasha. Plans for the 3-story structure call for an original 50-person capacity, with an expansion potential for 100 residents in the future.

UW Receives Study Grant of $250,000

New York —A $250,000 grant to the University of Wisconsin for studies concerning middle-aged and older persons was announced Tuesday by the Ford Foundation.

The foundation said the grant is for research on the economic effects of private pension plans on the hiring and retention of older workers.

Methodists May Return To Traditional Worship

Suggestion of Quadrennial Meeting to Recapture Ancient Ritual Once Thrown Out

Denver —A return to that many theologians, scholars and the full range of Christian literature had been consulted in preparing the liturgies.

The move, at the denomination's quadrennial general conference, point up a trend in Methodism to recapture aspects of ancient ritual thrown out in early-day America.

Book Used. "Returns to historical forms are being recommended where the reasons for past changes seemed insufficient," said a report by a commission on worship, headed by Bishop Edwin E. Voight, of Aberdeen, S.D.

A 283-page book of worship, including rites for worship, baptism, confirmation, communion, marriage, burial and special prayers for days of the traditional Christian calendar, was presented for trial use in churches.

Many Consulted. In many respects, the services set forth resemble those of the Episcopal church more closely than has been customary in Methodism, which is an offshoot from the Episcopal, or church of England, pattern.

John Wesley, the founder of Methodism, was an Episcopal priest until he died.

The Rev. Dr. Will M. Hildebrand, of Altadena, Calif., a member of the commission, said in presenting the report at spring migration to wilderness nesting sites in the Wood Buffalo Park area of Canada's Northwest Territories.

The normal flight route is through Oklahoma, Kansas, Nebraska and the Dakotas into Canada. All along the way citizens are alerted to watch for the rare migrants. Hunters are requested to refrain from shooting at any large, white bird.

Citizenship of Foreign Doctor OK'd by House

Washington —A bill to allow Dr. Josef Enzinger permanent U.S. resident status was passed by the house Tuesday and sent to the senate.

Rep. Alvin E. O'Konski (R-Wis.) announced.

Dr. Enzinger is an Austrian and the only physician in the small community of Glidden in the northern Wisconsin county of Ashland. He came to this country on a temporary visa in 1955 and has been threatened with deportation.

Residents of Glidden rallied to his support and appealed to O'Konski, who in turn offered the bill that would allow the physician to remain. O'Konski said this is the first time a bill involving an exchange visitor had been passed by the house.

Emergency Sewer Relief Suggestions Due Soon, City Told

Report on Ultimate Solution to Neenah Problem Several Months Away

Neenah — Engineers of the Jerry Donohue Engineering company, Sheboygan, which is conducting the extensive sewer study for the city, informed city officials Tuesday that a preliminary report suggesting emergency relief measures will be submitted soon but the final report outlining the ultimate solution will be several months away.

Mayor Bell and Wayne G. Bryan, public works director, met Tuesday afternoon in a long discussion session with Robert Jones and Leon White of the engineering firm.

The heavy amount of rainfall and the saturation of the ground causing water to stand in fields, has intensified the problem and is delaying the final report, it was brought out.

Need Dry Spell

The engineering firm needs a steady dry weather period with very little rainfall, such as from mid-June to mid-July, to compile more statistical data on the flow in the Neenah sewer system.

The engineers reported that considerable more information is needed on the sewers before any conclusions can be reached. Gauges measuring the flow at different periods will be moved to other sewers throughout the city to record this data.

For example, it was discovered that the Wilson avenue area sewer is getting a flow of several hundred gallons per person each day which is several times normal.

This can only mean that the sewer is tremendously overloaded by a great quantity of storm water entering the sanitary sewer system. So much water could not possibly be from only a sanitary system, the engineers thought.

Emergency Measures

Some of the emergency measures suggested by the engineers, which they will embody in their preliminary report, verified suggestions made by city officials to the engineering firm as things to check upon during the survey.

Although these emergency measures may be only of a temporary nature rather than part of the final solution, city officials are asking for the firm's recommendations so that the problems encountered Christmas weekend and again on two occasions within the last 10 days may be eliminated as much as possible.

"We want to know what can be done reasonably soon since the ultimate solution will be a long time before it is received and a long time before it can be completed," Mayor Bell stated.

School Stationers To Add $37,000 Addition to Plant

Neenah — School Stationers corporation Tuesday was granted a building permit for a $37,000 addition to its plant on Clybourne street by Building Inspector Carlton F. Williams.

The addition will be to the converting plant and will be used for production and housing of new machines. It will be 75.8 by 110 feet in size and of masonry construction.

DeKeyser and Rasmussen, Inc., are the contractors.

Lake Shore Land Privately Owned, Council Advised

No Public Access Yet Given; 1959 Motion No Longer Valid

Menasha — Land along the east shore of Little Lake Butte des Morts between the government lock and Lake street belongs to the abutting property owners and is private. No public fishing rights have been reserved as yet, City Atty. Richard Steffens informed the council Tuesday.

A long discussion on the shoreline land was carried on when Ald. Robert Mielke asked its legal status.

Steffens, a member of the state assembly when the first action to quiet title on a part of the 1,965-foot lake shore strip was brought, recounted the history.

Directed to Deed Land

In 1947, he said, a circuit court decision found that George Lenz' lakeshore land (filled in in 1935 as a health measure in a WPA project) ed against any of the drivers involved in the 4-car mishap. Brewer was struck by Kissinger's car as he talked with Marvin R. Hintz, 24, route 1, Green Lake, who had stopped to assist Brewer after Brewer's car became stuck in the ditch. The Kissinger car then was struck by an auto driven by Robert F. Herring, 30, of 530 Evans street, Oshkosh. Three persons were injured but all were released after treatment at Mercy hospital.

The jury ruled that there was negligence on Kissinger's part in the operation of his car but the degree of negligence wasn't sufficient to meet the requirements for a negligent homicide charge.

Dist. Atty. Jack Steinhilber said no charges would be filed.

K-C Benefit Group Marks Anniversary

50 Years of Mutual Assistance To be Observed at Dinner Thursday

Neenah — For 50 years medical, dental and optical care.

Kimberly - Clark corporation employees have been helping each other through their Mutual Benefit association. The anniversary will be marked Thursday with a special luncheon gathering at the marketing center during the MBA's annual meeting.

Some of the long-service board members will be recognized at this meeting.

Long a pioneer in employee benefits, Kimberly-Clark was one of the first major industries in the country to establish such an association program recognizing the need for aiding ill or injured employees or helping the surviving members of their families.

It was founded in 1910 as an organization of employees whose united contributions created a fund to help one another. Also helping this fund was a substantial contribution from the company. Life insurance coverage for employees was part of the program originally. It was replaced in 1927 with a company group insurance plan for all employees.

This Mutual Benefit association was 14 years ahead of the state's adoption of the workmen's compensation act, the first such act to be adopted in the country.

The original rate per employee was $1.25 a month and it was not until 1949 when the rate went up to $2. It is now $3.25 a month but the increase in the last 10 years has been primarily caused by continually rising costs in hospital care.

The original association was the only plan providing that type of dental and optical coverage for employees. Few plans are available anywhere even today that offer coverage for dental and optical care.

Off-duty accidents also amounted to 10 cents per member in 1917 as against $3.58 today. The doctor bills which totaled $295.35 in 1917, or 14 cents per member, last year added up to $68,147 for surgical benefits, equivalent to $7.61 per member.

Dental benefits last year totaled $66,877, optical benefits $25,134 and medical and hospital benefits $13,387.

The original association was the only plan providing that type of dental and optical coverage for employees. Few plans are available anywhere even today that offer coverage for dental and optical care.

Honored for His Work in the Neenah Red Cross chapter's fund drive this year was Phil Stone, right, campaign chairman, shown receiving a certificate of appreciation from Frank X. Hochholzer, left, chapter chairman. Neenah again was the first chapter in the state to reach its goal.

Okay New Menasha Plumbing Ordinance

4 Earlier Regulations Repealed; Major Change Requirement of Cast Iron Pipe

Menasha — The council Tuesday passed a new plumbing code, to replace four earlier ordinances.

Major change is that building sewer pipe and drains will be of cast iron in service weight, except that pipe over 10 inches in diameter may be of vitrified clay. Up to this time, clay pipe was allowed in all sizes.

Water service pipes up to 4-inch diameter must be of type "K" soft copper. Pipe 4 inches and larger must be of cast iron, imbedded in gravel not larger than 3-inch size.

No soldered joints will be allowed underground.

Contractors will be required to furnish $1,000 surety bonds before receiving permission to excavate in streets or alleys. When work is finished, they must replace the fill and paving taken up.

The plumbing inspector is

Railroad Files Appeal Against Assessments

Sewer, Street Work in Neenah Subject of Suit

Neenah — Wisconsin Central railroad, which is operated by the Soo Line, Tuesday afternoon filed an appeal in circuit court against an assessment by the city of Neenah.

The railroad is appealing the assessments for sanitary sewer and street improvements on Harrison street along the railroad right-of-way.

The railroad, in its appeal, states that it will not benefit from the proposed improvements along the right-of-way and the assessments are excessive to the extent of confiscation.

Violates Statutes

It further said the Neenah city council acted contrary to statutes and the ordinances of the city.

The assessments were for sewer and water main installations as well as street improvements between W. Cecil and Marathon streets. The railroad right-of-way is along the east side of Harrison street for that entire distance.

The sewer and water main also serves Neenah Foundry company's new plant on Marathon street and the Edgewood plat area east of S. Commercial street.

Gas Perils Family in Oshkosh

Oshkosh — Firemen Tuesday afternoon revived three Oshkosh persons who were nearly overcome by carbon monoxide gas.

Mrs. Henry Berndt, her daughter, Mrs. Shirley Buck, and Mrs. Buck's 6-year old son, Peter, became ill from gas which filled the house from a plugged-up furnace.

Mrs. Berndt's husband called the fire department when he arrived home at 1:20 p.m. and found the trio nearly unconscious. All were in good condition when firemen left at 2 p.m. They did not require hospitalization.

OSC Students To 'Intern' in City Schools

Serve Week in Community Hiring Them as Teacher

Oshkosh — Two groups of Oshkosh State college elementary education students are undergoing "teaching internships" in school systems where they have contracted to teach.

Among the 28 school systems involved are Appleton, Brillion, Chilton, Kaukauna, Menasha, Neenah, and Shawano.

The internship program, designed to acquaint the student with the full scope of a teacher's life, was started at the college in 1951. Oshkosh State college is the only college in Wisconsin to employ this type of teaching experience, according to Dr. David L. Bowman, director of teacher education at the college.

Dr. Bowman said the program is aimed at acquainting students with a typical school system, enabling the "new" teacher to become familiar with the community and school system in which he will teach and to help sustain interest in college work after the student has signed a contract.

Schedule

Among the students participating with their home town and school system in which they will teach for one week are Mary Ellen Bastar of Cecil at Manitowoc, Shirley Czich of Manawa at Neenah, Sally Klandt of Clintonville at Racine, Dolores Hohenstein of Clintonville at Manitowoc, Mrs. Kay Hughes of Oshkosh at Menasha, Lois Kautzer of New Holstein at Manitowoc, Mary Sue Klein of Appleton at Kiel, Wanda Maxted of New London at Waukegan, Ill., Mrs. Nancy Richter of Oshkosh at Menasha, Barbara Thomas of Kimberly at Neenah, Mary Tully of Oshkosh at Kaukauna, Joyce Weber of Maribel at Appleton.

Teaching for two weeks will be Shirley Cronce of Manawa at Stevens Point, Carol Gerlach of Neenah at Neenah, Kay Gjermundson of Wittenberg at Berlin, Ronald Guenther of Oshkosh at Chilton, Rose Marie Haen of Greenleaf at Appleton, Kenlynn Heydon of Madison at Brillion, Dolores Kober of Horiconville at Sheboygan, Betty Jane Novolny of Oshkosh at Kaukauna, Judith Perdue of Racine at Appleton, Patricia Piepenberg of Appleton at Neenah, Betty Traugott of Fremont at route 1, Neenah, and Mrs. Sylvia Wilber of Oshkosh at Appleton.

10 Miles of Streets Built In Six Years

Neenah Public Works Director Informs Council

Neenah — In the six years from 1954 through 1959 the city of Neenah conducted more than 10 miles of new streets for a total cost of $238,365, according to a report submitted to the council by Public Works Director Wayne G. Bryan.

Work in 1958 included street construction in the Edgewood and Glenayre Park plats with the extensions of several streets and a small amount of work in the Baldwin plat.

The 1959 program included Surrey court, the extension of Sterling street, Greenfield street, the extension of Baldwin street to Winneconne avenue, Aylward street and an access driveway into the Green Acres plat.

The new street construction by the number of feet during this period was 6,840 feet in 1954, 7,220 feet in 1955, 12,400 feet in 1956, 16,380 feet in 1957, 14,206 feet in 1958 and 1,965 feet in 1959.

Street Reshaped
Reconstruction during the same six years neared 50,000 feet of streets that were reshaped and graded. Last year's program included 14,200 feet of streets reconstructed, the largest in the six years.

The work during the last two years was primarily regrading streets where sewers were laid and repairing new streets for their initial oiling.

Sewer maintenance during the last two years, he reported, has consisted of periodic flushing, cleaning and checking of problems areas and a complete cleaning of all sewers on the island.

OSC Debaters to Compete in Tourney

Oshkosh — Representing Oshkosh State college at the national invitational debate tournament at Marquette university Friday and Saturday will be Robert Hall of North Fond du Lac and Carston Hoeller of Clintonville, both seniors in debate.

Eric Erdman, Oshkosh, will compete in oratory and Dr. William White, speech department head, will accompany the group.

There will be six rounds of debate and each team will debate both sides of the question on "Resolved: That the congress be given the power to reverse decisions of the supreme court."

74 Place on NHS Top Honor Roll

Neenah — Seventy four Neenah High school students made the "A" honor roll for the third quarter of the year and another 146 were listed on the "B" honor roll.

The freshman class placed 26 on the top list and the sophomores added 22 students on the "A" honor roll. Also on that list were 12 juniors and 14 seniors.

the city to remove the land fill. He said his had been a test case to determine status for all lake property owners. "Presumed Constitutional," Steffens replied, "Law is law. We must obey it. I told Mr. (Alfred) Becher sooner or later it would have to be tested in court. The law must be presumed constitutional until a court acts to override it. The state took the position the land belonged to the state, and the law passed unanimously in senate and assembly." Only the supreme court, he said, could override the legislature.

Becher, who has erected a fence preventing public access to his shore land, told the council two fishing rods and reels had been stolen from his dock and his tackle boxes ransacked.

At the council meeting of April 21, 1956, the council passed a resolution conveying the land to abutting property owners as directed by the law. Ald. Louis Gammey then moved for an ordinance allowing public fishing rights along the strip. His motion died with the last council. Steffens advised, since it was unfinished committee business.

Vandal Act Nearly Cost Life of Boy

Neenah — A near-drowning of a boy, an act of vandalism, an investigation has revealed.

A 2-year-old boy was saved from possible drowning by an 8-year-old neighbor Sunday night after the youngster tumbled into an open manhole.

The cover for this manhole and for another in the area were found in an empty field nearby. The manhole provides access to a water main valve and does not lead into a sewer.

With the covers off the manhole had filled with rain. Tuesday night found several youngsters in another area taking off a manhole cover and rolling it along. These youngsters were turned over to their parents.

Mayor Bell urged that parents warn their children about the danger of such practices and to caution them not to touch or remove the manhole covers. Bryan said thought is being given to placing tar around the manholes as a deterrent to their being removed.

Approve New Plumbing Code In Menasha

Stinski said the water flowing South into the Clovis-Grove area from the town of Menasha is causing water damage to the city and added that years ago the water flowed eastward through drainage ditches, since discontinued.

As far as a suit against the town, Klein said it could be grounds for a test case, if water flow direction had been changed.

Without taking formal action, the aldermen approved specifications on backfill materials prepared by City Engineer M. J. Noth. Gammey recalled some projects last year in which large stones and chunks of masonry had been used for backfill by a contractor.

The council approved street committee minutes which authorized the city to finish 1959 curb and gutter projects awarded to Henry Verbruggen and Sons, Little Chute. If work is not complete by May 30, the city would have it done and deduct the cost from the amount still owed Verbruggen.

The fluid synchronized movements forming a water ballet number is a combination of many elements, explained the adviser. "First the girls must perfect their basic strokes. Then from that basis

Mrs. Cougan's greatest problem, that "of getting all the girls to agree on a set time for practice and being sure all would be there. In the beginning they are sort of lax, but as the show date creeps up, they get better," she said.

To punish the tardy, the club members decided to impose a fine of 10 cents for each minute late up to 15 minutes. "If any tend to be late, they're not too late under this system," reported Mrs. Cougan.

OSC Golden Trident Stages Water Ballet

Oshkosh — At the signal of a flashlight, the faint swish as the last swimmer slid into the pool and the beginning strains of "Stormy Weather," a spotlight switched on to illuminate four black clad figures gliding through the water with graceful, synchronized movements.

The signal, the swish and the swimming were repeated time after time Monday evening as Oshkosh State college Golden Trident members held a final dress rehearsal for the annual water ballet, which opens tonight.

The show, "When You Wish Upon a Star," will be given at 8:15 p.m. today through Saturday with a 4 p.m. Saturday matinee in the college physical education building pool.

Directs Numbers

Ideas for the show began to glimmer as early as last October, reported Mrs. Helenjane Cougan, club adviser and OSC physical education instructor. "We decided on the theme just before Christmas and held tryouts in December. The girls practiced new stunts in January and February and in March we started practice for specific numbers."

Club members, either individually or in pairs, direct the numbers, planning the choreography and costumes. "We try to plan ahead so the girl who is directing will not be in that selection," explained Mrs. Cougan, who is completing her first year at Oshkosh.

A native of New York, she previously taught in Albany, N.Y.

"In case something would happen to one of the cast members, the director can replace her. Something did happen today," groaned the trim instructor with gamlin hair style. "Today, one of the girls, Ursula Skarvan, Green Bay, came down with the mumps. But the show must go on," she smiled repeating the time-worn but tested phrase.

The script for the show, written by Beverly Broehm, Winneconne, centers on the fantasies of a little girl sent to bed early because her mother is giving a dinner party. "Eloise," the character created by Kay Thompson, narrates the show.

The water revue opens as Eloise, chatting with her maid

Rockets Top Jay Netters

Down Intercity Foe 5-2 for 5th Straight Time; Wilson Wins Over Stenson at No. 1

Neenah — A 3-2 edge in the set over Doug Ankerson at No. 1 singles plus a sweep of the doubles enabled Neenah to 4 and Ritchie by 6-3 and a best Menasha 5-2 in a well-played tennis match Tuesday afternoon on the Neenah high school courts.

The victory was the fourth straight for the Rockets and their third in Mid-Eastern conference play.

For Menasha, the loss was its first after three wins. It has a 1-1 league record. The match marked the first time that either team had been scored upon by an opponent. Both had won their first three outings by 7-0 scores.

The last five duals between the two schools, covering 24 seasons, all have ended with the Rockets winning by a 5-2 score.

2-2 Deadlock

When the first four singles matches were completed, the score was tied 2-2. The Rockets' Dick Wilson broke the deadlock with a 6-3, 6-8, 6-1 win over Jim Stenson at the No. 1 spot. Had Stenson given the Jays the edge, Coaches Ivan Williams of the Rockets and Leo Kenney of Menasha had planned to juggle their doubles teams. However, needing only one point for victory, Williams used Ankerson and Wilson, one of the better high school duos in the state at No. 1 while Kenney had to go along with Stenson and Bill Ritchie, his strongest pair. Ankerson and Wilson won 6-3, 6-1 after the games were tied 3-3 in the first set.

Neenah also took the No. 2 duals baseball game between Neenah and Clintonville was postponed until 4:30 p.m. Thursday because of wet grounds.

The Rockets, who haven't seen action since dropping a 2-1 decision to Menasha a week ago Tuesday, are scheduled to play at Shawano today in a Mid-Eastern conference makeup.

Neenah's singles victors were Jack Ankerson over Krysiak 6-1, 6-1 at No. 2 and Price over Fred Hollenbeck 6-3, 6-1 at three.

Menasha's singles victors

Final Plans for the Opening of the Fox River Valley Baseball league were made at a meeting of league officers and team managers Tuesday night at the Menasha Eagles club. ## Zephyrs Face Hortonville

St. Mary Attempts To Avenge Earlier 11-0 Non-Loop Loss

Menasha — St. Mary will attempt to avenge a non-conference baseball loss when it travels to Hortonville Thursday afternoon. The Zephyrs were slated to be at Fond du Lac this afternoon for a Fox River Valley conference battle.

Hortonville blanked the Menashas 11-0 in their last home game a week ago as Lon Kringle pitched hitless ball for six innings. He allowed a single to Gary Shriver in the seventh.

The Polar Bears shut out Bear Creek 15-0 Monday giving them two straight whitewash efforts.

Kringle probably will oppose the Menashas again with Bill Becker. Bob Jensen or Tom Hanson expected to pitch for St. Mary, depending upon the starter used today by Coach "Fritz" Heiss.

Park Department's Slim Budget's for Many Jobs

Kiwanis Club Told Slashed Appropriation Spread Thinly Over 130-Acre Facility

Menasha — The park department has been given about $400 an acre this year to try to maintain the city's 130 acres of park area and all of its recreational features.

Harry Kargus, park superintendent, told the Kiwanis club Monday that the park department budget was slashed $25,000 by the last city administration and the remaining $90,000 will be spread thinly to complete the department's work.

One of the aspects of the job that will not suffer by order of the park board, Kargus said, is maintenance of the city's 48 flower beds, where 35,000 plants of 25 varieties will bloom.

Department Work
In addition to the flower beds, the 12-man department maintains seven softball diamonds, one lighted; two hardball diamonds, one lighted; the city's picnic areas and facilities; three boat docks; 62 boat stalls; the memorial building; pool maintenance; and the trees, shrubs, lawns and flowers in the 130 acres of parks.

All of the facilities, Kargus said, are well used and if there were money enough 50 more boat stalls could be maintained to meet the demand.

To handle the maintenance work the department has five vehicles, $12,000 in motorized equipment, a complete maintenance shop with some $4,000 tools to do the carpentry, plumbing, masonry and electrical work incidental to operating the park system.

Vandal Trouble
In addition to the routine work in keeping up the parks, Kargus said his department is faced with an almost routine battle against vandalism. Park benches and tables seem to be a prime target for by Arnold Belling, Rosendale, a state deputy. Refreshments will be furnished by Mr. and Mrs. Tom Hendry and Mr. and Mrs. Julius Mueller. The Juvenile Grange also will meet at 8:30 p.m. Friday.

Pick Group to Set Park Use Policy

Menasha — Three park and recreation commission members were appointed Monday to draw up a form of park administration and use policy for study by the commission. Pres. Robert Schwartz named Dan Arft, Lilius Pfankuch and Mrs. Hayward Biggers to the committee.

The policy to be drawn up will be only to have a starting point, Schwartz said today. The policy will be gone over, point by point, and discussed at future board meetings.

The board laid over until fall a proposal offered by Robert Horney of the National hofen, silicon solar battery; Tim Tuchscherer and James Fuller, fluorescence; and John Kober and Thomas Gruber, radar.

Wednesday, May 4, 1960 Appleton Post-Crescent 28

Recreation association on park surveys, layouts, proposed buildings and playgrounds. Schwartz said the board first will see what it can do back on such a program, since Horney's estimate for his services was $1,000.

Hit Speeds of 75 in Village, Caught When Car Skids, Stalls

John L. Vander Zanden, 24, of 276 S. Ann street, Kimber, ly, paid $100 in fines, lost the right to drive for a year and collected 12 points against his driving record Tuesday as an aftermath of a wild police chase in Kimberly shortly after 2 a m Sunday.

Municipal Judge Oscar J. Schmlege held off the last 11 months of the year's revocation if Vander Zanden is not arrested for a moving traffic violation in the next year.

Kimberly police followed two cars at high speed over the Community bridge. When the cars separated, police followed Vander Zanden's. He led them along Maes avenue at speeds up to 75 miles an hour and turned off his headlights, police said. On a rough stretch of street, just after police clocked his car at 60, Vander Zanden lost control of his car and it skidded broadside, stalling. He was trying to restart the motor when police hauled him out of the car, a patrolman testified.

Second Driver

Sen. Draheim Will Address Taxpayer Group

Current state fiscal problems facing the legislature will be the subject of state Sen. William Draheim at the second annual meeting of Appleton Taxpayers association.

He is chairman of the legislature's finance committee. The senator will outline state spending and tax problems as they relate to balancing the Wisconsin budget, in the face of a multi-million dollar deficit. Draheim announced today a plan to cut spending 10 per cent (See story on Page 1).

The association meeting is open to the public, and will begin with a 6:30 p.m. dinner at Stroebe Island Haven. Reservations may be made by calling Harley Spitt at Fox River Tractor company. After the dinner and Draheim's talk, the group will elect new members to the board of directors. The board of directors then will elect officers for the coming year.

Sewage Plant Men Might Get Hour Cut

Board Approves 40-Hour Week at No Pay Reduction

A 40-hour week and specific shift hours for sewage treatment plant workers will be recommended to the city council tonight by the board of public works. Changes would be retroactive to May 1.

The board consented Tuesday to cut the present 44-hour week to 40 at the request of Robert Schlieve, Teamster business agent, whose union represents the plant workers. The cut in hours is recommended with no reduction in pay, which means the men will receive a 10 per cent increase in hourly rates.

Shift Hours

Shift hours were set as 8 a.m. to 4 p.m., 4 p.m. to midnight and midnight to 8 a.m. The arrangement of who will work the particular shifts will be left to the mutual agreement of the director of public works and the employees.

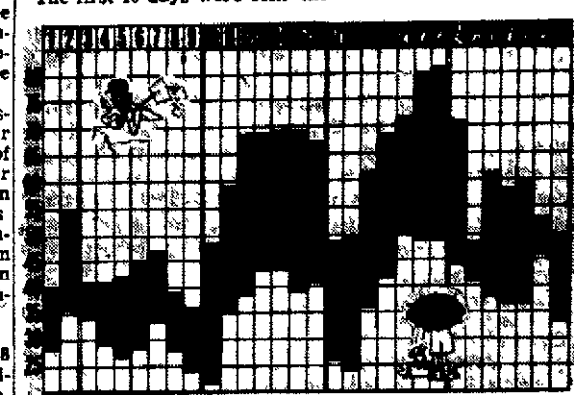

Schlieve said if workers split their shifts and work for each other so that one can get some extra time off no overtime pay will be involved.

Bi-Weekly Pay

If the council adopts the work week cut and the work hours sewage plant workers will have the same conditions as proposed for street and sanitation workers, with one exception. The board failed to act on

Civil Defense Alert Opens in Fox Cities

Limited Action From CD;
Military Units Participate

Civil defense workers in the Fox Cities participated in the national alert Tuesday, but without coordination in Outagamie county

Military units went through a practice drill setting up security guards around the Outagamie county airport and the Menasha swimming pool (a simulated waterworks).

The air raid alert was flashed from the Appleton police station to the Outagamie sheriff's office, where it was relayed to cities and villages in the county. Sheriff Robert Heintz said the selective service office offered its records and services as part of the federal government's instructions to its divisions to participate in the alert.

Police Services
Undersheriff Donald Heintz, director of police services for the northeast reception area, was notified of the auxiliary police available, but no instructions on what he was supposed to do.

Corp. Counsel Raymond Dohr, acting head of Outagamie county's civil defense, called the state CD headquarters to report Appleton had no fallout radiation, per instructions from the Stevens Point emergency state capital.

Some 63 members of the First battalion, 274th regiment of the 84th division, posted guards at the Outagamie airport for about 24 hours Tuesday night.

Menasha Alert
At Menasha, officers and men of headquarters and headquarters company and the second battalion of the 274th regiment (basic combat training), 84th division, drew field equipment and marched from the army to the Menasha swimming pool.

The pool, a simulated waterworks, was guarded by the troops during the problem.

Maj. Gordon Campbell, an army adviser, said the alert was to test how the units would protect vital community installations in the event of a civil emergency.

Lt. Col. William Benoit, executive officer of the 274th regiment, said he "was quite pleased with the alert, considering it was the first since the division was reorganized" last May 19.

"We had the normal amount of bugs. One problem was that we have people scattered all over the countryside." Men of the Menasha units live from Kimberly and Kaukauna to Fond du Lac.

Volunteers, Too
Col. Bert Dunlap, 274th commander, said the exercise was valuable training for the units. The alert brought out two volunteers. Two little boys living on Third street donned their midget helmet liners, one wore a life jacket, and both toted midget tommy-guns to the pool, where they took posts.

Green Bay and Brown county were fortunate Tuesday. They were not bombed and the entire population was "evacuated" without incident.

Most Realistic
It was by far the most realistic exercise conducted by Brown county's civil defense organization — and it provided a stiff challenge for personnel manning the new $15,000 emergency communications control center in the basement of radio station WJPG.

They were on the job until midnight Tuesday and they will continue to operate the communications center until 1 a.m. Thursday, just in case a "stray bomber" decides to rain hypothetical destruction on Green Bay.

Deputy County Civil Defense Director Arthur Norgaard described it as "quite satisfactory," and undoubtedly the most realistic test ever conducted here.

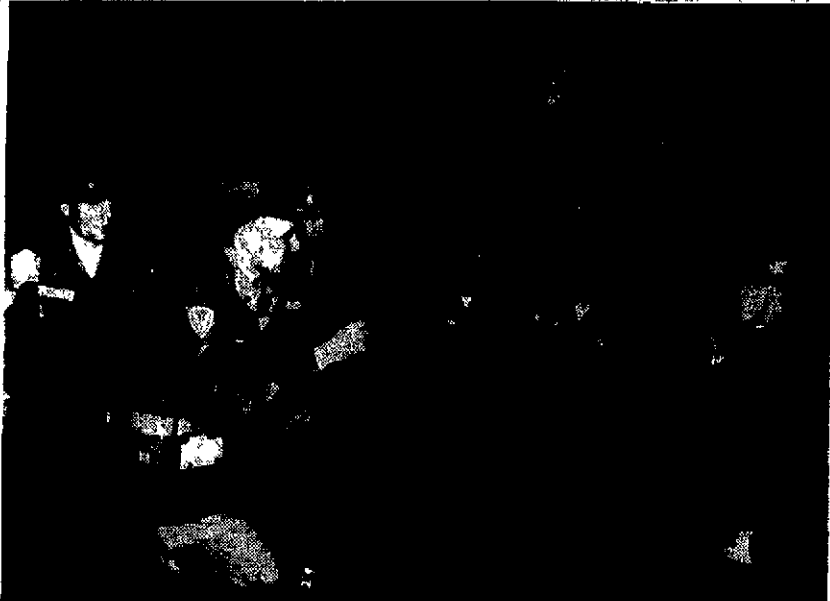

It began at 1 p.m. when all Green Bay radio stations switched to Conelrad, the emergency civil defense radio frequency of 1240, which prevents enemy bombers from tracking their targets on commercial wave lengths.

The "working" part of the alert began at 1.10 p.m. when the sheriff traffic department relayed to the control center a message from the national air alert warning service, Colorado Springs, Colo., that "Fakers," (enemy bombers) were spotted in formation over northern Canada.

Three Cities Hit
Three state cities — Superior, Madison and Milwaukee — were targets for theoretical nuclear attacks in the nationwide test exercise.

Officials at the temporary capital set up at Stevens Point said there were no initial reports of any "casualties."

The cities of Madison and Milwaukee completed a make believe evacuation be-four the bombs hit. Officials said 95 per cent of Madison's population moved to safety areas. Milwaukee evacuated 283,000 persons by early evening.

Department heads and scores of state employees began operations in Stevens Point after the sirens wailed attack warnings as part of the test.

Civil defense workers will continue to carry out various phases of the test exercise during its remaining two days.

Group to Aid Rehabilitation

Mental Health Association Backs Family Care Plan

A foster home plan for rehabilitated mentally ill persons will be aided by the Fox Valley Mental Health association.

The directors of the association Tuesday night heard the plan outlined by Theodore Dettweiler, Green Bay, state social work consultant, and Mrs. Virginia Williams, assistant director of social services at Winnebago State hospital.

The Fox Valley association will assist in finding homes for patients who are ready to be released from the hospital but for some reason are unable to return home or have no relatives or family.

12 Patients Out

Mrs. Williams said the family care program is an extension of therapeutic care to help the patient gain confidence to step back into the normal world.

There are about 12 patients living in such foster homes in the Fox valley, she said. Room, board and expenses are paid by the hospital. Each case is carefully studied before a patient is released to a family.

The family care plan not only helps the patient build self confidence, it also makes the families feel they are needed and are doing something worth while, Mrs. Williams added.

The Fox Valley Mental Health association will work on the program through its office at 125 W. College avenue. The Winnebago state hospital also provides information on the program.

three daughters, Mrs. Harold Gauerke, route 3, Clintonville, Mrs. Harvey Hartfiel, route 1, Fremont, and Mrs. George Blazek, route 3, Appleton; two sons, Llewellyn, Appleton, and Kenneth, route 1, Clintonville, and six grandchildren.

Television Production About U. S. Had Poor Representatives

BY GEORGE E. BOKALSKY

New York — The Associated Television, Ltd., of Great Britain some time ago put on two television programs about the United States. One dealt with what is wrong with the United States; the other was a defense of this country.

The defense was no better than the attack. What William Clark, the moderator of the program, seems to have wanted to have discussed was whether this has become a nation of dull, joyless, fat, and self-satisfied robots. He collected a most amazing group of Americans to discuss the subject. Prof. Wright Mills of Columbia University answered Clark amply when he said:

"When you ask the question what do you mean by conformity and dissent, you assume that all men tend to be political and that they either conform or that they dissent."

Now neither of those situations is really the case for some people at least in the United States today. The situation is a third. Namely, that they don't care either way, that they neither accept nor reject. So that the problem of conformity versus dissent I should rephrase and say that it has been displaced in the U. S. scene as well as elsewhere, as a problem of apathy, of political indifference, of just not caring. I suppose this sort of thing is most likely to happen in a society which is doing very well economically, but I don't think that is the only cause of it. In the United States today there is no broad base of dissent.

Hiss Speaks For U.S.

In a word, we are on the whole a satisfied, contented people who have little to kick about. The next one to be interviewed was Alex King. I read what he had to say carefully but find nothing worthy of quotation. King apparently does not like advertisements.

Then Alger Hiss was brought on to speak for the United States. Clark's introduction of Hiss is a marvel of understatement.

"... We put this question to someone now living in obscurity, his state department career cut short by a famous trial in which he was convicted of perjury."

Hiss spoke emotionally: "... I would think certainly one of... (the causes) of the past 10 years has been fear, sort of nameless fear, but a fear of the unknown, of unusual, unexpected things, and as a result of that, the thing sort of spread so that there has been a tendency to conform in the professions, in education, and even in cultural matters."

Had Hiss been adequately introduced, his British audience would have understood the cause of his fears. Furthermore, he might have explained that if there is fear in this country, it is due to the rising power of the bureaucracy of which he was one of the architects.

Alger Hiss was followed by Jules Feiffer. His comments I cannot interpret. They are of the new-fangled beatnik type. For instance, he says this:

"... Probably because if you pay attention to the issues they're too frightening, because the issue today is whether we can bypass next year or not and it's too horrible to contemplate. It's not just who's going to win this local war, or who's not going to win this local war, it's what's going to be left and nothing is going to be left. Nobody wants to think about that."

It would be very interesting to know what this means and in what manner it explains the United States to Great Britain. Some of the rest of it gives the impression that we are just plain nuts, if these are examples of the great American dissenters. There are dissenters on the right and dissenters on the left. Sen. Barry Goldwater and Sen. Wayne Morse or Sen. Javits are dissenters of stature. Whoever picked this gang did not know America. (Copyright, 1960)

Democrats at College Plan Convention

Plan Nomination of President in Mock Program May 13, 14

Oshkosh — Young Democratic party members at Oshkosh State college are sponsoring a mock convention May 13 and 14 to which the college organizations and classes may send members as delegates from any one of the 50 states they decide to represent.

The delegates will assemble on Friday evening, May 13, to hear a keynote address by a Democratic leader who is still to be named. Invitations to be the keynote have been sent to former President Harry Truman, Sen. William Proxmire, Paul Butler, nation Democratic party chairman, Sen. Lyndon Johnson and Atty. Gen. John Reynolds.

After the keynote address the platform committee, made up of members from each delegation, will meet.

Nominations
Nomination of a president and vice president will be the schedule for Saturday, using the same method as the senior party at its national convention. A banquet and victory ball have been suggested to complete the program.

Replies already received by the group's executive board has indicated considerable interest in the project and one professor has called it the first real attempt at political education by any political party on the Oshkosh college campus.

Your car won't tell you it loves Shell gasoline in so many words, of course. But, we believe, after you've driven a few miles on either of Shell's remarkable gasolines you will begin to sense a difference in your car's response. ## County Homemakers Strive Toward Goals

"Today's Home Builds Tomorrow's World" is the theme of National Home Demonstration week which began Sunday and will extend through Saturday. Fifty-five Outagamie county homemaker groups, boasting a membership of approximately 875, have been carrying on special activities.

Home demonstration work is an education program planned by homemakers and conducted cooperatively by the Extension service of the United States department of agriculture, the land grant colleges and county governments.

Families learn to apply the latest approved methods developed by home economics research. The goal is to strengthen home and family life by helping women become more efficient homemakers and more effective citizens in their communities, states and nation.

Aims of Program
Aims of National Home Demonstration week are:
1. To acquaint more people with the total extension service program and to emphasize its contribution to home and family living.

2. To interpret the scope of home demonstration work and how it helps families adjust to changing social and economic conditions.

3. To inform people of the home demonstration agent's duties and how to contact her. Outagamie county's agent is Miss Nyla Bock, whose office is in the county courthouse.

4. To help homemakers know and use research findings related to the home and family.

5. To give special recognition to volunteer leaders who plan and carry out the program.

The Outagamie county Homemakers Achievement day program was held April 27 at Wilson Junior High school. Mrs. Homer Thompson, route 2, Shiocton, president, welcomed the 350 county homemakers who attended.

Miss Hilda Guenther, from the department of municipal recreation and adult education, Milwaukee, was featured speaker. Her topic was "Your IQ Is Showing" and she pointed out that impressions made on others through general appearance sometimes speak more loudly than accomplishments.

Body a Mechanism
"Your body is a mechanism and should be treated as such," she said, pointing out that homemakers have an opportunity to build their bodies just by doing the regular household chores.

Miss Sandra Laudon, who has enrolled for the fall semester at Stout State college, Menomonie, was recipient of a $150 scholarship. Miss Geraldine Krull, runner-up, received a cook book.

Also honored were the oldest, youngest and most outstanding homemakers.

Mrs. George Peters, Black Creek, 80, was the oldest attending. She has been a member of Kitchen Queens homemaker group for 30 years.

The youngest attending was Mrs. Charles Schaefer, route 1, Appleton, 20, and a member of the Jolly Workers group.

Mrs. Peter Overn, Black Creek, was named most outstanding homemaker. She has been a member of the Kitchen Queens for 15 years. She was president the last year, despite the fact she has lost her eyesight.

When Mrs. Overn was 20 she attended the School for the Blind in Janesville, where she met her husband, also blind and minus an arm. At the school she learned to type and do things with her hands. A teacher has been living with her since her husband's death three years ago.

Mrs. Overn didn't let her handicap interfere with her life. She has served on many committees in her homemaker group and has managed to do the regular house-keeping chores.

Have Long History
Homemakers in Outagamie county got their start in 1923 through the efforts of Mrs. Edward Cummings, Appleton, and the late Mrs. John Schoettler. The first gathering was a small group of women interested in new methods of food preparation, clothing and home management.

In 1930 the first county home agent was employed and headquarters were set up in the office of the county agricultural agent.

In the last year two new groups were organized: the Do-Mors and the Tri-Lines.

The goals this year were to give homemakers the opportunity to study home and community problems under trained leadership, to develop leadership among women and to foster all that pertains to the best development of children, home and community life.

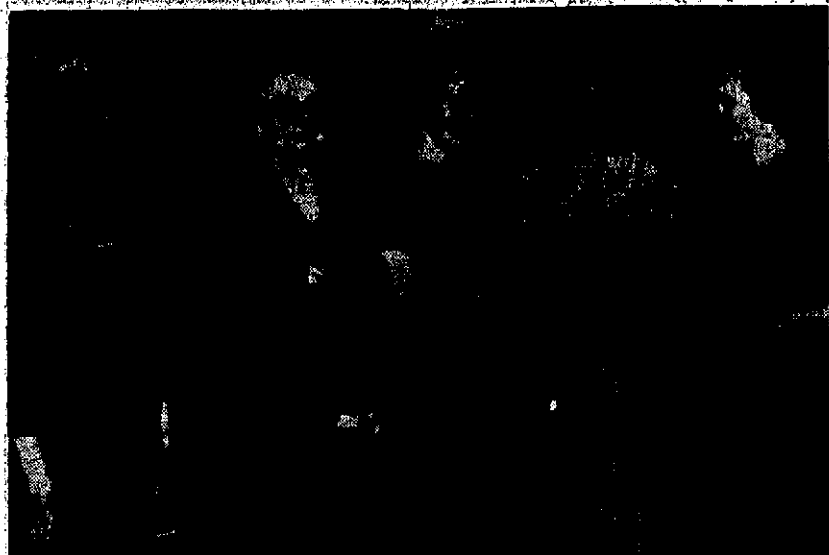

Projects for the last year have included "Care and Selection of Carpets," "Sweet Rolls and Yeast Bread," "Seafood Cookery," "Cooperating with the Teenager" and "The Care and Use of Accessories."

In October, two meetings were held on highway safety and in November two all day textile painting workshops were held. In February a series of salad meetings took place.

A group within the group is the Homemaker Chorus which furnishes the music for all occasions. Mrs. Albert Doverspike is chorus director. The group also participated in the Good Neighbor Fair at Valley Fair Shopping center Saturday.

Elect Officers
New officers who will take over their duties when the groups reconvene in September are Mrs. Harold Schmichel, president; Mrs. Harold Ort, vice president; and Mrs. Alvin Tiedt, secretary-treasurer.

The executive board includes Mrs. Henry Schaefer, Mrs. Henry Blumer, Mrs. George Logan, Mrs. Rudolph Huettl, Mrs. Eldor Klitzke, Mrs. Louis Lathrop, Mrs. Martin Britten, Mrs. George Bodde, Mrs. William Marcks, Mrs. Marvin Zahn, Mrs. Alvin Wendt, Mrs. Harold County Homemakers Honored at the Achievement day program April 27 were, from left, Mrs. Peter Overn, Black Creek, most outstanding; Mrs. George Peters, Black Creek, oldest homemaker attending; Mrs. Charles Schaefer, Appleton, youngest attending; Miss Sandra Laudon, Appleton, recipient of a $150 scholarship; and Miss Geraldine Krull, Appleton, runner-up.

The Homemakers Chorus provides an opportunity for women interested in music to pursue their career. Mrs. Alberta Doverspike is director and Mrs. Manning Nelson is pianist.

How to Teach Youngsters To Make Own Decisions

BY ANGELO PATRI

All our lives we are forced to make choices. Shall we do this or that, and on the decisions we make, our fortunes depend. Make the right one and we are rewarded by success; make the wrong one and we are faced by failure. It is our duty therefore to teach young children to make wise decisions; when possible, offer them a choice.

Here, we must be careful. It is not going to help if we know there is but one way open and offer the child a choice. Should he make the wrong decision we shall have to say, "No. You must do this."

Make sure that there is a choice, that either way the child will be safe, before asking him what he would like to do.

Color Choices

Children have color preferences quite early in their lives. Little girls of 4 and 5 have favorite colors. Small boys know which tie they like best to wear with their dress-up suit.

Mothers can say, "which sweater today?" knowing the youngster will be equally as warm in either, but be happier wearing the one he chooses.

The teacher who tells his class he would like them to vote on a question of action must be careful that the decision the majority makes will be acceptable and can be carried out. To allow a class to vote on a matter of class action and then say, "I'm sorry but you've made the wrong decision. It must be this way." This is disastrous.

In order to train children to think independently, make wise decisions, carry their responsibilities, we have to allow them choices.

In the beginning these are carefully staged. As the children grow in understanding, these choices can be offered with more of a challenge.

Then it is we say: "Think about this; think of what the consequences of the choice will be for you must abide by it and see it through."

Angelo Patri offers readers leaflets on a variety of subjects concerning child training. If you would like to have his leaflet, "Helpful Habits," send 10 cents in coin to him, care this paper, P.O. Box 99, Station G, New York 19, N.Y.

Light From, and for, Crystal Chandelier

How much light should be expected of a crystal chandelier? Not as much as is sometimes planned for, now that many homes are acquiring them for the first time. Mrs. C. B. writes as to what size and type of crystal chandelier she should choose to illuminate her living room properly. The answer has to be that what matters most is to find one she likes, one that's in good proportion to the room. A crystal chandelier is first of all a decoration and it can be glorious. But good lighting for the room must include enough other, more efficient light sources.

Of course a crystal chandelier sheds general light, but it's almost more important that it be lighted to make the crystal sparkle than that it gives light. Lights in the chandelier itself do this better if they are small and many than if they are longer, higher powered and fewer. And sometimes light is focussed from afar onto the chandelier—here a tiny spotlight nestling beside the curtain tops. The effect is splendid—every little crystal facet is set aglow.

Mrs. J. S. "Our new home is a split-level Colonial style and has a 13' x 23' living room. The window for the living room area is 96 inches wide, and for the dining area the window is 72 inches wide. On the opposite wall are two lowered windows which look down into the recreation room, which has the same green on the walls. I'm thinking of brown and beige for the rug as I would like to get Early American dining furniture. Could I recover our three-piece modern sectional furniture, now in navy, and two white chairs to blend with Early American? What colors for the curtains and rug?"

A navy, mint green, brown and white scheme could be very attractive which means that you could leave the sectional furniture as it is. Blue and white, or blue, brown and white in a modernized Early American design for the chairs could help to bring Early American into the living room area, and the addition of other furniture and a few accessories in this style would also help. A rug in blue and green, or a blue, green and brown mixture would be more interesting than brown and beige, and curtains would be best in white.

Mrs. J. C. H. "My living room is furnished with a large rose beige sectional sofa, a black leather chair and Oriental rugs. What are the best colors for the walls, window if they are longer, higher placed by a plain rug, what color should it be?"

A good choice for the wall color is a paler shade of the rose beige of the furniture, or a beige without the rose tone, from the rug. For relatively small windows, you might use rose from the rug. For larger windows, use the rose beige of the walls or blending tones of beige. This assumes that the rugs are predominantly rose, although you do not say so. The new chair might be a soft blue or olive green, whichever is included in the room, and this color should be repeated in an accessory or rug. It could also be used for a plain rug, but today's new interest in Oriental rugs, and the fact that the room can use pattern will probably persuade you to keep them.

Westminster Abbey Holds Secrets, Joys Of British Princess

BY COLIN FROST
London—(A)—Princess Margaret will take her wedding vows Friday amid a scene of incomparable splendor, a scene familiar and dear to her heart since childhood.

The site of Princess Margaret's wedding Friday is one familiar to her and close to her heart. In Westminster abbey she has witnessed great ceremonies of state and in that same great pile of stone she spent many quiet hours after her broken romance in 1955. This third of a series of articles gives a word picture of the abbey and of the latest ceremony in its long history.

For more than seven centuries the mother church of British royalty, Margaret has known and loved it all her life. As a wide-eyed child of 6 she saw her father crowned there. At 17 she was bridesmaid at her elder sister's abbey wedding. Six years later, perhaps a trifle enviously, she looked on again as the same elder sising vision in white, will kneel with her bridegroom before the Archbishop of Canterbury in his robes of richest red and gold. They will pray together on the spot where through the centuries kings and queens have knelt to make their coronation vows.

As their prayers end, the choir will sing in unison the 121st Psalm: "I will lift up mine eyes to the hills." Henry Purcell's "Trumpet Tune and Airs" will pour forth from the great organ as Margaret leaves on the arm of her new husband, her veil now thrown back in symbolic disclosure. All the choir and canons of Westminster will escort the bridal couple from the abbey to the glass coach and the cheering crowds.

Behind will come the eight bridesmaids and then the royal procession—Queen Elizabeth and Philip, Queen Mother Elizabeth, the Queen of Denmark and the battalions of lesser royalty. Soon the bells will burst in to rejoicing, and the abbey and Margaret will have turned another page in their joint history.

Organists Highlight Calendar

Two recitals of organ music will highlight the concert calendar this week at the Lawrence conservatory.

The first is listed for Thursday evening in Memorial chapel when junior organist Carol Nohling, Kenosha, will share a program with Betty Roberts, Bangor, mezzo-soprano.

The second is a faculty recital by Daniel Smith, lecturer in organ, at 8:15 p.m. Sunday, again in Memorial chapel. This is Smith's second major concert appearance within a week, for he has just appeared as guest organist with the MacDowell chorus.

Church Organist
Miss Nohling, who is organist at the Methodist church in Neenah, is a pupil of LaVahn Maesch. Miss Roberts is from the studio of Inge Weiss.

Smith, who did his undergraduate work with LaVahn Maesch, has also studied organ with E. Power Biggs, Arthur Howes and Catharine Crozier at the Andover, Mass., summer organ institute, and with Robert Noehren at the University of Michigan.

WHEN you know in advance that you'll be hospitalized for a week or so, swap a few small "Love from Mommy" gifts for the left-behind children. ## Your Problems

Likes Government Souvenirs, But Would He Steal a Statue?

BY ANN LANDERS

DEAR ANN LANDERS: Does the United States government care if people take home pens from the post office, ash trays from the court house waiting room and items of this type?

My husband claims that as taxpayers we pay for these Ann Landers things and in a way they belong to us. I say if we're entitled to them why do they have "Property of U. S. Government" stamped all over them? Also, I pointed out that the pens he brings home still have the little chains on them.

We have three young children and I don't want them to pick up these habits if it's wrong. Wanting to know.

Dear Ann: Taxpayers pay for the statues in our parks but he wouldn't think of taking them home, would he?

Your husband is guilty of petty larceny and he must know it. Just ask if he flicks these items in full view of the post office employees or the courthouse custodian.

Taxes would be lower for all of us if the government didn't have to spend millions replacing a man's good and stolen property. Tell your husband to cut it out. He's setting a terrible example for his children.

DEAR ANN: Will you please print a problem that must be bothering others in the age group 45 to 60?

I'm 48, hold a responsible position and have worked for the past 15 years. My husband's salary, combined with mine enables us to live well. I get up at 6:30 a.m. every day and return from the office at 5:30. I do all my own cooking, laundry and cleaning. The only chance I have for relaxing and doing extra things around the house is the weekend. Now—the problem:

Our only daughter lives 90 miles away. She has two active, young children. Every weekend and holiday they drive up, no matter what the weather. They make plans with their young friends and I become a sitter, cook and maid. She thinks we are thrilled to have them, and I hate to tell her otherwise.

Frequently she's told me how wonderful it is to "get away from the grind of housework and kids" every weekend. In the meantime my husband and I are ready to fall to pieces. Have we gotten selfish? I'd like to print my name in capital letters but I wouldn't dare. Just call me—Exhausted.

Dear Ann: Your daughter should realize that a woman who holds a full time job needs time for herself on her days off.

You aren't selfish—you're human. And she's terribly thoughtless and inconsiderate. As a homemaker, she must know that cooking and cleaning for six is more work than doing for two.

Tell her you'd love to have her "every few weeks."

DEAR ANN: We're in dutch with our folks and need your help.

Last night my girl friend and I had a slumber party at my house. We invited 15 girls. We planned to have a taffy-pull, pop some corn, play records and stuff like that.

About 9:30 p.m. six fellows came over unexpectedly. A half hour later another carload drove up. We don't know how the word got out about the party. Everybody was sworn to secrecy.

We were all in our pajamas but we thought it was O.K. to let the fellows in. My folks came home about 11:30 and they were furious. Now I can't go to another slumber party for three months. Is this fair? What else could I do?—Victims

Dear Victims: You could have told the boys "Sorry but this is a hen party. We aren't dressed. Goodbye." (P.S.—Yes, this is fair.)

To learn how to keep your boy friend in line without losing him, send for Ann Landers' booklet, "Necking and Petting—And How Far To Go," enclosing with your request 20 cents in coin and a large, self-addressed, stamped envelope.

Ann Landers will be glad to help you with your problems. Send them to her in care of this newspaper enclosing a stamped, self-addressed envelope.) (Copyright, 1960) the ace. Dummy's nine will act as a second heart stopper if the opponents continue the suit, so South is in no immediate danger.

 Nevertheless, South is not overjoyed with his contract. He can easily win four clubs and the three side aces, but this will leave him two tricks short. If he goes after diamonds, the opponents may take three diamonds and two hearts.
 South can surely develop two extra spade tricks if he can reach dummy twice. The problem is to develop two entries to dummy.
 Clubs May Work
 The clubs may provide the two entries, if South keeps his eyes open. South should cash the king and queen of clubs

A Lovelier You

By Mary Sue Miller

Bridal Loveliness
 Every girl dreams of being exquisitely lovely on her wedding day. And that she will be, if only she follows a pre-nuptial beauty program.
 For all brides-to-be, realities that surpass dreaming emerge from this program:
 At least a month before your wedding, begin to give your skin the special treatment it thrives on. If, for example, the skin is oily, apply a corrective lotion—not hit-or-miss, but like clockwork. Also pamper your hair with extra shampoos and brushings. Remembering the ring ceremony, prepare your hands by keeping the cuticles oiled, by doubling up on manicures and lotion massages.
 Three weeks before Your Day, decide on a hair style, one that complements both you and your headdress. Then have your tresses shaped accordingly and permanently waved if necessary.
 Well before time, "rehearse" your cosmetics with your gown. This gives you an opportunity to replace a too-garish lipstick or a too-pale

Search for Novel Packaging Goes on

The quest for new packaging techniques, which in the past decade has helped double the annual sales of the packaging industry, shows no signs of abating.

More than 10,000 ideas, some fresh and some warmed over, were on display in Atlantic City during the 4-day national packaging exposition and conference.

Such items as windproof paper plates, boxes for orange juice and plastic containers that smell like the products in them were shown.

There was even an aluminum eggshell — an innovation that no doubt would flabbergast the hundreds of design students who have heard their professors describe the eggshell as "nature's perfect package."

Trend Is to Plastics

If there is a trend to be seen amid the exhibits, it is that new materials, especially plastics, seem certain to continue to cut into fields that were once the exclusive domain of glass and paper. Paper manufacturers are combating this by combining their products with metal and plastics.

As things stand, paper accounts for more than 40 percent of an annual industry volume estimated at $12 billion to $15 billion. Metal cans have 17 per cent, glass about 8 per cent and plastics 7 per cent. For the future, almost every branch of the industry sees important gains.

Polyethylene film is expected to grow lustily in the coming decade. It's having more of its success as wrapping for paper products such as napkins and towels. In this area sales have grown from almost nothing in 1955 to a million pounds last year, and industry officials have set a goal of 15 million pounds for 1963.

Reason for this fast-growing use, according to a spokesman for Union Carbide Plastics company, a division of Union Carbide corporation, is that paper tends to soak the moisture out of cellophane, making it brittle; yet paper producers want a transparent wrapping to dramatize their new colored products.

Smack of Clean Living

The most novel embellishment for polyethylene film, perhaps, has been conceived by U. S. Industrial Chemical company. It impregnates the material with four aromas, giving customers their choice of chocolate, orange, clean linen or perfume.

The aluminum eggshell has been devised in an attempt to make eggs stay fresh without refrigeration. Research notes that the natural porosity of the shell allows air to seep inside. This is vital for embryonic chicks, but it also lets decay-producing bacteria thrive. An aluminum jacket for either one egg or a whole hen, they contend, may help the problem.

Fed cartons with welded seams, which would make it possible to toss food and container right onto a barbecue grill, are another development. So are aluminum aerosol dispensers for cheese and an aluminum-lined beer carton said to keep beer cold up to six hours.

Aluminum Lining

Richard S. Edling, director of research for Pneumatic Scale corporation, reports that his company and others have devised an aluminum-lined box to hold uncarbonated beverages such as orange juice. The boxes are ready to go, he says; what is needed now are machines to fill them efficiently.

A simple answer to the problem of paper plates that soar from the backyard table at the first gust of wind also has been turned up. Minnesota Mining and Manufacturing company and Kleen - Still Products, Inc., of Chicago are marketing paper tape, sticky on both sides, to hold plates on table.

Dixie Cup division of American Can company is using polystyrene tape on its paper coffee cups as an insulator. It makes the outside of the cup 45 degrees cooler than the inside, officials say, eliminating the need for a handle.

Marriage of Actor Headed for Divorce

Hollywood —(AP)— The marriage of actor Efrem Zimbalist, Jr., apparently is heading for the divorce court.

Mrs. Zimbalist said her husband moved out of their home a week ago.

"I don't know who will get the divorce, but I suppose he will," she said. "This was his idea."

Zimbalist is the star of TV's "77 Sunset Strip." He and his wife, married in 1956, have a 3-year-old daughter.

The Proposed Addition to Monte Alverno retreat house will look like this. The new wing extends west from the original L-shaped building. Twenty-two rooms for retreatants and a lounge will be incorporated into the $300,000 addition. The added space is expected to provide housing for an additional 1,500 visitors per year. Monte Alverno is the only retreat house in the Green Bay diocese that operates throughout the year. George Narovec and Associates are the architects.

anxieties, hopes, dreams) which must and will find or force out.

Repression Futility
Repression externally applied only can result in these internal pressures increasing. Accordingly, it is more than futile and, in final analysis more than absurd.

It does not explain how or why the flame is ignited in the young person's mind and emotions and soul. It does not recognize—because of the logical efficacy of punishment and retribution—that, even once generated, these pressures can be given legitimate social outlet and, when this is done, that the results can be positive and socially useful.

I think this letter is evidence of the social validity of my thesis.

My background as a violent young psychopath (putting to one side my guilt or innocence of the red light bandit crimes for which I wait to die) is well known.

Punishment didn't control me; it didn't relieve the pressures.

I might have spent this, my last night on earth, cursing my plight and society. I didn't. Instead, even though I realized no matter what I wrote or didn't write, my fate would remain unchanged, I put these pressures, these tensions to work. They are producing this letter.

They will permit me to walk into the gas chamber and paradoxically, die calmly. For I have learned the hard, the lethal way to put them to work.

Society Can Learn
I earnestly submit my society can learn to teach those thousands of youngsters following in my footsteps to do the same in a much easier way, provided only it is willing to call upon its reason and its humanity rather than its executioners and its desire to punish, punish, punish.

I die with the hope that someday this will come to pass.

I want to believe no man ever again will have to know the 12-year hell I have known since especially, there is such a reasonable, rational and humane alternative.

Yet, as Voltaire said, "the more ancient the abuse, the more sacred it is."

Sincerely,
Caryl Chessman

Writes Letter in Last Hours

Chessman Learns Hard Way to Put Internal Pressures to Work

New York—(AP)—A few hours before he was executed, Caryl Chessman completed a letter to reporter Mary Crawford of the San Francisco News-Call Bulletin. The text of the letter, as it appeared in Scripps-Howard newspapers, follows:

Dear Mary
They say the child is father of the man. Tomorrow morning, barring last-minute court action, I shall be executed. The physical man will die. What of the child?

What sort of person was this lad who, figuratively, sired Caryl Chessman?
Initially, in these last hours of life, I must tell you frankly that memories of my boyhood are often blurred. The images of the present and the immediate future are sharper in my mind than are those of the dim past when I and the world each were young.

It seems more like three centuries than three decades have passed since the tousle-headed 8-year-old I once was looked forward that May 1 spring day in the year 1930 to his ninth birthday 28 days hence.

Now, so far as I know, the man that boy became—after 12 years on death row—has no more birthdays to look forward to. With death so close, you have asked: What could have been done to reach the troubled, rebellious youngster that boy became, in the period between childhood and adulthood?

How could he have been changed from an angry undisciplined young man, filled with mistrust of the world and even himself, into a useful citizen? In larger context, where and how are we failing those we call juvenile delinquents?

Almost certainly there is no easy answer, and it would be presumptuous if not ridiculous for me to suggest there is. Nevertheless, I feel a few reflections are in order.

Since the death watch will be here in a very few more minutes, I'm obliged to postpone writing further until I am transferred downstairs. (Editor's note—At this point, the letter changed from typing to longhand.)

Coercion No Answer
It is now past 6 a.m., less than four hours remain to me, and, after a busy night consulting with attorneys, Rosalie S. Asher and George T. Davis, and writing last personal letters to my friends, I'll return to your questions.

Let's start with what I'm convinced the answer is and was not.
It is not, ethically, morally, legally, or philosophically a problem in seeking to coerce or compel passive obedience to authority on the part of young persons whose deeds we label criminal.

Thus I believe that so long as we seek a negative answer with punishment and the threat of punishment, deluding ourselves with the witless fiction that punishment per se is either a correction or a cure, we will continue to see the problem get worse.

For the youthful offender can be likened to a kettle filled with water under which a fire has been lit.

Steam begins to generate—and when we seek to solve by punishment, in reality we do no more than attempt to hold back the potentially explosive pressure of the steam by plugging the spout and holding down the lid, meanwhile scolding the kettle and holding it responsible for this phenomenon.

Inevitable Explosion
We leave the fire burning, and the pressure grows greater, until, inevitably, there is an explosion.

These psychical explosions we call crime and when the explosions express themselves homicidally, we have our gas chambers ready.

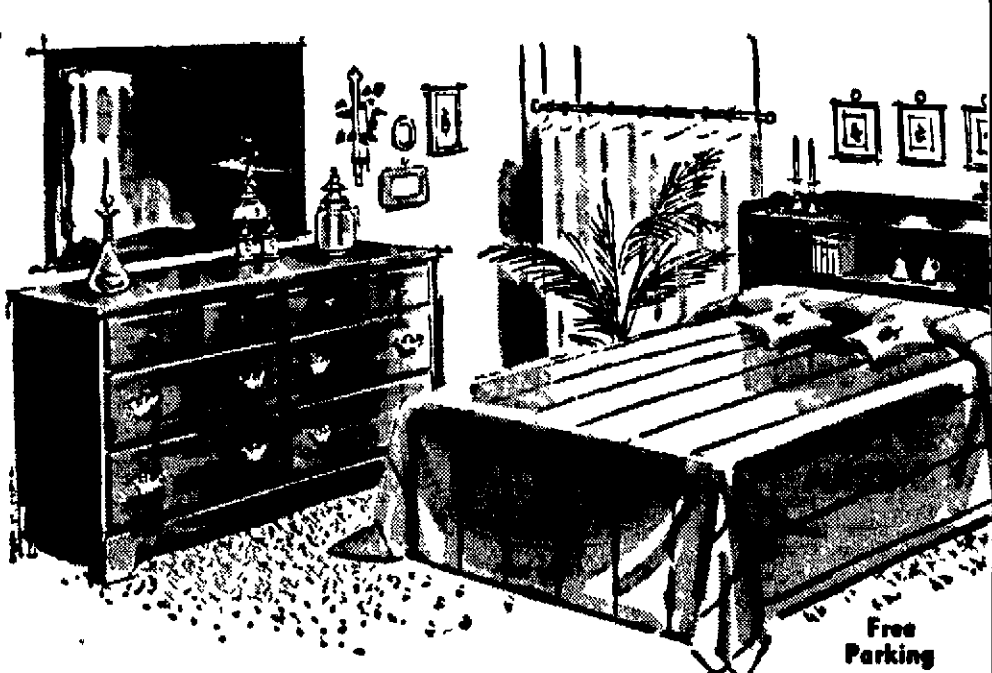

We say "punish" to protect ourselves, by example to deter others from repeating the proscribed act.

We haven't learned yet that, while young human beings of course are not kettles, there are pressures inside them (conflicts, needs,

Summer Curbing, Walk Work Set by Council

Aldermen Establish Assessment Rate For Sanitary Sewer Installations

Kaukauna—Council members set up curb and gutter and public walk projects for the summer and established assessment for sanitary sewer installation.

Curb and gutter projects approved include the west side of Sullivan avenue between Twelfth and Thirteenth street, on the north side of W. Seventeenth from a point 115-feet east of Sullivan avenue to Glenview avenue, on Main avenue from Seventeenth to Henry street, on Plank road from Lawe street to Green Bay road, on Green Bay road from Plank road east to city limits and on Grant street from Lawe to Green Bay road.

Little Chute Reaches 5,008 In Population

Pre-Registration of Voters Required as Result of '60 Census

Little Chute — Preliminary census figures secured by Paul Koska, village president, lists the 1960 population at 5,008, an increase of about 20 per cent over the 4,151 population in 1950.

Going over the 5,000 population mark means the village will have to hold advance registration of electors rather than taking names at the polls as has been the practice in the past.

The village will also have its police department included in the state pension plan as a result of reaching the 5,000 mark. The village will contact the league of municipalities to ascertain whether any other statute changes are necessary as a result of reaching the new mark.

As in other communities, the letter from the regional census office indicates the figure may be changed slightly after persons are assigned in their proper localities.

Cadet Outing Cost Criticized

Little Chute Board Approves $300 for Annual Excursion

Little Chute—Growing cost of the annual safety cadet outing sponsored by the village was criticized by President Paul Koska at the board meeting Tuesday night. Koska explained that four years ago the cost of the day-long excursion was about $150 and last year the cost went up to $346.

It was pointed out that the cadet corps has grown considerably.

Allow $300

After a lengthy discussion the board allowed $300 for the event and turned the matter over to the police department to handle arrangements.

Renewal of insurance on boilers, with an increase in coverage from $25,000 to $50,000 was approved. Boilers covered include those at the village hall, municipal garage and sewerage disposal plant.

It was pointed out to the board that the first Fox Valley league baseball game is scheduled to be played at American Legion park May 15. Bleachers from the football season are still standing in the outfield and the street commissioner said it was impossible to remove them at the present time because the ground is too soft to drive on.

Firemen Called To Drain Water From Low Lot

Kaukauna — City firemen spent two hours Monday evening pumping water from a low lot on Eighteenth street after area residents complained to aldermen about the danger to youngsters.

Water had accumulated over three feet deep in some areas of the lot. The land is privately owned but Gilbert Andersen, chairman of the public protection and safety committee, authorized draining of the land by firemen.

The water was pumped to a storm sewer on Eighteenth street.

Elkhart Lake Downs Chilton

Chilton — Elkhart Lake High school golfers for the second time this season, downed the Chilton linksmen by 10 strokes Monday. The score was 191 to 201.

Wet playing conditions at Hickory Hills Country club here was blamed for the high scoring.

Match medalist was Ron Phelps of Elkhart Lake who fired a 43 on the nine-hole par 36 layout. Other scores for the winners were: Tom Weise, 45; Jim Moorhead, 46; and Hank Nametz, 46.

Chilton's ace, Jerry Korder, slipped off his usual par when his score soared to 50.

Walk projects include replacement work in front of 1617 Main avenue and 308 W. Eighth street, new walk on the corner of Eden and W. Eighth on the west side of Eden, on Eden from W. Eighth to Seventeenth on the west side of the street and at 429 W. Eighth street.

Other Walks

Also scheduled was Sullivan avenue from Thirteenth to Seventeenth, on W. Fifteenth and in the Glenview acres plat two blocks on Glenview avenue, on W. Thirteenth street, on Kenneth from Thirteenth to Fifteenth and the east side of Seventeenth. The balance of the walk on Main avenue from Seventeenth street south to the last home on the west side of the street was set up for summer work.

Other walk installation is scheduled for Augustine street from Ducharme street to Grignon home, on Ducharme from Taft to Augustine, on Hillcrest drive from Orchard drive to Peters road and condemned walks on Sarah street from Lawe to Desnoyer streets. The clerk was authorized to send notices to property owners whose walks need repair.

Assessment Set

Assessments for sanitary sewer installations were set at $2.75 per lineal side foot and sewer laterals were confirmed at the rate of $135 per lateral. This work is to be carried out in the Green Meadow plat and property owners must provide the city with waiver agreements prior to installation.

The city granted permission to the Chicago and North Western Railway to close off the rail crossing at DeLanglade street temporarily to permit repair of the crossing.

The engineer was authorized to investigate sinking condition of a roadway and public walk at Wisconsin avenue and Kaukauna street and to meet with the board of education in regard to poor condition of public walks about the schools in the city.

The engineer and city attorney were instructed to secure easements from property owners for the extension of a storm sewer in the Idlewild street area. The engineer was also instructed to bring in a report on policy practices in effect on concrete street surfacing.

Instructions were given after a discussion on permanent surfacing for Sullivan avenue. Aldermen discussed the merits of blacktop and concrete surfacing.

Members of the Kaukauna Rod and Gun club made inquiry on the purchase or lease of city owned land for use for conservation club purposes. The matter was referred to the finance committee for investigation.

Building Costs During April Set at $227,400

Eight new home permits were issued, total estimated construction costs set at $101,700. Eight permits were issued for alterations and additions to homes at a cost of $20,800. Permits for three garages costing $3,100 were issued and two sheds were built for $200.

Players, Managers To Plan Campaign

Kaukauna — Plans for the coming 12-inch softball league season will be discussed at a meeting of managers and players at 7 p. m. today in the council chambers.

The first organizational meeting was indefinite as to the number of teams to participate. Tonight's meeting will determine that question and permit the recreation director to start drawing a schedule.

Bob Flappert and Doug Bass tied for Chilton's low with 66. Don Winkler shot a 50.

Wednesday, May 4, 1960 Appleton Post-Crescent C18

Royalty for the Junior Prom, "Bali Hai," at Kaukauna High Friday night will be Neil Weyenberg and Donna Biese. The king is selected by the junior class and he selects the queen.

Village Sewage Contract Must Be Approved

Federal Body Will Review Bids Prior To Granting Aid

Kimberly — Bids awarded for renovation of the sewage plant by the village board Monday night will become official after approval by the regional office of the federal government, according to the village engineer.

The village, to qualify for the 30 per cent of total cost figure furnished by the federal government, must have all plans, specifications and bids approved. This is expected to be given within a few weeks thus permitting the work on improving plant facilities to start early in June.

General contract is for $90,880 and the electrical contract is for $8,134. Plant improvement is needed to handle the increased growth of the village and to meet state board of health requirements regarding sewage pollution into the Fox river.

If work progresses satisfactorily with no long delays for weather conditions it is expected the building and facilities will be operating sometime in February, 1961.

Lindbergh Kidnaping Negotiator Succumbs

New York — Col. Henry Breckinridge, an attorney who conducted the futile ransom negotiations in the Lindbergh kidnaping, suffered a heart attack and died.

Col. Breckinridge, 73, was assistant secretary of war under President Woodrow Wilson in 1913.

When the baby son of Col. and Mrs. Charles A. Lindbergh was kidnaped in 1932, Breckinridge tried unsuccessfully to arrange a ransom, not knowing that the child was dead. He was one of the witnesses at the trial of kidnaper Bruno Richard Hauptmann, who was executed.

Three Events at FVGC Postponed By Heavy Rains

Kaukauna — Heavy rains the last few days has forced postponement of three special events at the Fox Valley Golf club.

The course has been open to members only for the past two weeks and these players are not permitted to play all holes. The fairway on No. 8 has large water ponds and the turf is very soggy. A few of the greens are still too wet to permit play.

Men's night opener scheduled Thursday has been postponed a week as was the stag opener originally scheduled for Saturday. The Twilight league was to start May 12 but this too has been postponed a week.

Men are asked to sign up for Twilight league participation on the bulletin board at the club.

United Church Family Night Program Set

Kaukauna — A family night covered dish supper at 5:30 p. m. Thursday at Immanuel United Church of Christ will be held in honor of the national celebration of Family week.

Speaker will be Mrs. Margaret Miller, Appleton. A native of Vietnam and a graduate of the University of Wisconsin, Mrs. Miller teaches French in the lower grades at Appleton. She plans to return to her native country sometime this month to visit her parents' home.

Rolls, coffee and milk will be furnished. Miss Bonnie Grimmer will be toastmistress. The Sunshine club with Miss Lucille Haass as chairman will have charge of the supper and table decorations.

Garage Permit Issued

Council Adopts Dog Ordinance For Park Areas

Investigation Being Made Into Possible Outlying Play Sites

Kaukauna—City parks, playgrounds and summer recreation program came in for considerable discussion at the common council meeting Tuesday, highlighted by adoption of an ordinance making it illegal to have dogs or cats in city parks, playgrounds and school grounds.

The ordinance does not apply on days designated as "pet days" or the presence of animals used professionally for licensed entertainment.

Gilbert Anderson, Fourth ward alderman, objected to the ordinance as too harsh. He felt dogs on leashes should be permitted in parks.

Other aldermen spoke in keeping parks fit for youngsters and adults. A roll call vote showed eight of the 10 aldermen in favor of the ordinance, the two dissenters being Fourth ward representatives.

New Play Areas

Mayor Joseph Bayoregon suggested the finance committee and recreation committee look into the possibility of locating a play area for approximately 150 children in the Joyce, Gertrude, Harrison, Margaret, Diederich and Walter street area across Highway 41.

First ward Ald. Bert Roberts, finance committee chairman, reported he had started looking for property in that area but was having difficulty finding land which the city could buy without having to expend an exorbitant fee.

Gilbert Anderson, Fourth ward alderman, told Roberts to look for possible playground area in new sections on the southside and Bayoregon suggested the finance and recreation committee look for play area in all parts of the city and in outlying areas which might someday be incorporated into the city.

Roberts informed the council he would continue his investigation and at the same time suggested installation of 200 feet of storm sewer in Riverside park preparatory to a long range plan for park improvement.

Other Park Activity

The National Campers and Hikers association, Packland chapter, was granted use of the Grignon property on June 2, 4 and 5. Summer recreation personnel were limited to 40 hours per week or less to permit hiring more workers. Improvements were authorized to the LaFollette park wading pool to permit summer use and four sets of play equipment were purchased for Fassbender and Beauhieu Hill parks.

A claim for a car gas tank, damaged on rough city streets, was referred to the insurance carrier. The council agreed to appropriate $350 to underwrite the cost of the VFW Memorial day observance and the fire department was authorized to add

Kaukauna Breaks Ankle in Traffic Mishap

Kaukauna — Mrs. Anna Lamers, 68, 301 W. Eighth street, Kaukauna, suffered a dislocated and fractured left ankle when the car she was driving was involved in an accident about 4:15 p.m. Monday at Hendricks avenue and Ninth street.

According to Kaukauna police, Mrs. Lamers was going north on Hendricks when her car collided with a vehicle driven by Miss Sharon Grief, 18, 917 Eden avenue, Kaukauna. Miss Grief was going east on Ninth and the cars came together near the center of the intersection.

Emmett Rohan, 48, 917 Eden avenue, Kaukauna, a passenger in the car driven by Miss Grief, was on his way to Kaukauna Community hospital for a check-up and hospital authorities report he was not injured in the accident. The left side of the Lamers car and right side of the car driven by Miss Grief were damaged.

18th New Home Permit Issued

Kaukauna — Four new home permits issued Monday by Lohar Kemp, building inspector, brings to 18 the number issued to date in 1960.

Coffey, 424 Kline street, Kaukauna, to build a $18,000 home at 1600 Oakridge drive; to Edward Baumgartner, 1203 W. Fourth street, Kimberly, to build a $13,000 home at 1512 Kenneth avenue, and to John Brown, 700 Division street, to construct a $7,700 home at 813 Blackwell street.

Richard Sternhagen, 1717 Crooks avenue, was issued a permit to build a glass storm enclosure at a drive-in at an estimated cost of $1,600.

Village Girl Scouts Plan Parents' Tea

Little Chute — Girl Scouts of Troop 279 are in the process of making gifts for Mothers' day and planning a tea for parents at which time the girls will receive awards and proficiency badges.

Recently girls hiked to Combined Locks park and pavilion to meet requirements toward outdoor badges and toured a chicken hatchery.

Spring Marks Pilot Time for TV Industry

Only 35 of 300 Show Ideas Will Reach Network Next Fall

BY CYNTHIA LOWEY AP TV Radio Writer

New York — As the lengthening days, as viewers' thoughts turn to lawn mowers and vacations, are the most turbulent and ulcer-making in the television year. It may be tulip-time for the audience, but it's pilot time for the industry.

Before many weeks are past, there will be more disappointment than elation. Television producers — independent and network, big and small — have planned some 300 or more new show series. Many of them have gone to the big expense of making a sample show.

Michael Dann, CBS vice president in charge of programming, estimates that out of these 300 ideas, producers have filmed or taped more than 100 pilot shows. But only about 35 will achieve network air come September.

There's more to it, however, than being picked by a network. A show must have a sponsor — and a sponsor's choice can influence importantly the fate of a show.

For instance, after all these years CBS' "The Millionaire" is expected to wind up its run, replaced by a new series — new to TV, that is — based on "My Sister Eileen," the durable Ruth McKenny saga that was converted into "Wonderful Town."

At the moment, it looks as if Ed Murrow's "Small World" is definitely doomed — a combination of low ratings, expensive production and the producer's expanded "CBS Reports" schedule.

"Person to Person" still is pencilled into that network's Friday night schedule, but its position is definitely shaky.

The smash success of the new Broadway musical, "Bye, Bye, Birdie," means that Gower Champion, who directed it, will retire as a performer. His dancing partner, Marge, also will hang up her dancing shoes — in favor of housewifery and an occasional dramatic part.

Siobhan McKenna has the feminine lead and Walter Slezak the male starring part in the next Hour of Great Mysteries show, Wilkie Collins' "The Woman in White," on NBC May 23.

Marlene Dietrich Tells Germans U.S. Her Homeland

Berlin — West Berlin newspapers today described Marlene Dietrich as pert and charming after hearing her explain how she feels about her native Germany and her American home.

"I have no feeling about Germany as a homeland," Miss Dietrich Marlene told a news conference after her arrival for stage appearances. "Home is where your family is. My family now is American."

Marlene makes her first appearance on a German stage in 31 years.

"Marlene's a sharp girl," agreed the popular B. Z.

Newspaper criticism of the glamorous grandma seems to have subsided, but ticket sales for her show are still fairly slow, partly due to prices that run up to 100 marks ($23.80).

Actor Marlon Brando talks with newsmen early Monday morning near San Quentin prison after receiving permission from Caryl Chessman to make a movie on Chessman's life with Brando as star. Brando said he has no specific starting date planned for the film, but it would depict the evils of capital punishment. Chessman was executed Monday.

Attic Theater Try-Outs Set For This Week

Informal tryouts for Attic theater's 4-play summer season open tonight at the home of Director Zoe Cloak, 122 N. Union street.

The plays the community theater has picked for summer showing range from fast-paced modern comedy to Shakespeare. They are Samuel Taylor's "Sabrina Fair," the opening show July 9; Garson Kanin's "Born Yesterday," with its political flavor; Lillian Hellmann's drama on a southern family at the turn of the century, "The Little Foxes," and Shakespeare's "As You Like It."

Tryouts for the more than 60 parts to be filled in all four shows will be at 7:30 tonight, Thursday and Friday nights and at 1:30 p.m. Saturday. Anyone within driving distance is eligible for parts, Mrs. Cloak said, and no one actor will rehearse more than two or three times a week during May or June. She explained that nine rehearsal periods have been set up for each week, divided among the four plays, which will be rehearsed simultaneously.

Characters in the first comedy, "Sabrina Fair," include seven men and seven women, ranging in age from the late teens to the late 60s.

The four women and 12 men, including bit parts, in "Born Yesterday" are mostly young and middle-aged adults. "The Little Foxes" calls for one young girl, one young man and three women and five men in their 40s and 50s.

Mrs. Cloak anticipates no trouble filling the roles of the four young women in the Shakespearean comedy, but to cast the 17 dukes, clowns, fools, philosophers, lovers, servants, wrestlers and pages may require some doubling of parts.

Everly Brothers Have Top Fox Cities Tune

'Cathy's Clown' Takes Over Spot Held by Elvis for Last 2 Weeks

BY DICK DISC.

"Cathy's Clown" by the Everly brothers has top spot in the Fox Cities this week in its second appearance on the top 10 chart. The fast moving number has usurped the popularity of Elvis Presley's "Stuck On You," which has dropped to tenth place.

"Cradle of Love" by "Running Bear" boy Johnny Preston has moved into second place this week and another new number, "Step By Step" is third.

New tunes on the chart include "Let the Little Girl Dance" by Billy Bland, and "He'll Have to Stay" by Corina Minette.

Here's the top 10 in the Fox Cities:

1. "Cathy's Clown" by the Everly brothers.
2. "Cradle of Love" by Johnny Preston.
3. "Step by Step" by the Crests.
4. "Let the Little Girl Dance" by Billy Bland.
5. "Stairway to Heaven" by Neil Sedaka.
6. "He'll Have to Stay" by Corina Minette.
7. "Sink the Bismarck" by Johnny Horton.
8. "16 Reasons" by Connie Stevens.
9. "Clementine" by Bobby Darin.
10. "Stuck On You" by Elvis Presley.

New Records
"No Ifs—No Ands" by Lloyd Price has more swinging, shouting sounds from one of the masters of rock and roll. The number is similar to other efforts. It features a good beat and some background choral work. Dedicated to dancing teenagers, it has good appeal.

"Coming Round the Mountain" by David Seville and the Chipmunks. The general hit appeal of Seville's records has diminished, but this side should go well with the kiddies. It's a silly song that opens with a tango beat that leads into a rocking version of this old standard. Other side is a twice-as-silly ditty called "Sing A Goofy Song."

Album Spotlight
"What In the World's Come Over You" with Jack Scott features former hits of Jack such as "What In the World," and his newest rocker, "Oh, Little One." For those who want really rocking sound the album is available in Stereo. Good cover picture of Jack holding a guitar offsets the rather unmelodic music inside.

"Songs to Remember" with Mantovani. The lush, falling violins add a mellow touch to a selection of good old standards. Included is "With These Hands," "Gigi," "Two Different Worlds," and nine others.

To be eligible for the Pee-Wee league, the boy must be 9-years-old by July 1. The maximum age is 12. The Pony league is open to seventh and eighth graders. Last year about 125 boys took part in the baseball program.

Registrants are asked to bring 25 cents to pay for one-half the premium cost of their WIAA insurance. In the past, the city paid the entire premium costs. The new policy does not pertain only to baseball. All of youngsters who participate in any phase of the summer recreation program will be asked to pay half of their insurance.

Elderly Women Face Problems

BY SYLVIA PORTER

If you, an American woman, reach the age of 65, you can expect to live an additional 14 years and one out of four of you can expect to live at least to 85 years of age.

If you do achieve this goal — and surely you do not want to die before this age — you might as well recognize now how heavily the odds are against your finding your golden years full and rewarding.

The chances are 50-50 you'll be impoverished, in dismal, pathetic financial straits.

Face Loneliness

Half the elderly women who do have incomes in our country get less than $750 a year and the single elderly woman has an average income of only $680. Yet, it costs an elderly woman living in rented quarters in an average city area $1,200 a year to live modestly. An elderly woman living alone in New York City needs about $1,800 a year. Even an elderly woman living in the household of one of her children needs between $850 and $900 a year to maintain an adequate standard.

The chances aren't even 50-50 that you'll still have a husband. Rather, you face years of increasing loneliness.

Ever since 1945, there have been more women than men in our land and in the over-65 age brackets today, there are 120 women for every 100 men. More than half our women over 65 — a full 55 per cent — are widowed. On average, a married woman can expect to be widowed for about eight years. Among the over-65, the single or widowed woman makes up the largest group — more than 5 million are in this category. While 70 per cent of the over-65 men are married, only 36 per cent of the over-65 women are.

Health Problems

The high probability is you'll be hit by health problems too.

Older people generally suffer from failing vision and hearing, gastro-intestinal disturbances, dizziness and fatigue. Women are less susceptible to diseases of the heart and blood vessels but more susceptible to endocrine disorders.

cases. On average, over-65 women visit their physician 7.6 times a year against 5.8 times for men.

The prospect is you'll desperately need and want to have a job for pay fulltime if you can manage it, or at least part-time.

Work Part-Time

Right now half the women in the 65-and-older age group are working on a part-time basis — and for obvious financial as well as understandable social and emotional reasons. The elderly widow is the most seriously impoverished of all our senior citizens. An overwhelming 80 per cent of them get less than $70 a month in social security benefits, with 40 per cent getting between $33 and $49. Only 20 per cent get between $70 and $82 a month. The financial dilemma of the elderly widow is intensified by the fact that she receives three-fourths of her husband's social security payments, company pensions usually end with the death of the husband, and many elderly women have never either worked outside the home or had husbands covered by social security.

Top news in our nation today is the drive for legislation to help our senior citizens finance medical care. In preparation for the debate now going on in congress on how to accomplish this, a senate subcommittee on problems of the aged and aging, chaired by Sen. Pat McNamara, Democrat of Michigan, has been collecting data for almost a year. It was from a fact sheet on the "Status of Aged Women in the United States," prepared by this subcommittee, that I obtained the information you've just read.

"While the so-called 'golden years' are a time of increasing loneliness and poverty for millions of aged men, as well as women, it is the elderly women who are most acutely affected by specific problems," says the subcommittee. No adjective loaded prose is necessary to prove the point. The statistics alone "cry" the miserable tale of the over 65 women, with a warning to the rest of us.

Truman Aldas Ordered To Start Prison Terms

St. Louis — (AP) — Truman administration officials T. Lamar Candler and Matthew J. Connelly are to surrender in their home towns today to begin serving 2-year terms in a federal prison.

Judge Harvey M. Johnson of the U. S. circuit court of appeals yesterday issued an order permitting Candler to surrender to the U. S. marshal at Charlotte, N. C., and Connelly to surrender in New York.

The two men were sentenced for attempting to block the income tax evasion prosecution of a St. Louis shoe manufacturer. They have delayed imprisonment nearly four years by legal maneuvers.

Taxpayers Push for Expert Labor Counsel

Union Leader Terms Association Action 'Untimely, Not Sincere'

Representatives of Appleton Taxpayers association at the ramification of labor tended the street and sanitation laws and contracts should tion committee meeting to help draft the final docu- push their proposal that ment."

In a letter to the council the association suggested the city engage "legal counsel which specializes in labor relations on behalf of management."

Robert Schlieve, Teamster business agent, has termed the association's action as "untimely, and not sincere." He commented, "I'm sure this 11th hour interjection of the association into the negotiations was instigated by someone in the city government who is opposed to organizing the workers."

Sherman Frinak and Donald Jabas told the committee the association's prime concern is that terms of the agreement be clearly defined and easily understood by both the city and the workers.

$35 An Hour

They said they thought legal counsel could be hired for about $30 an hour for work done in his office and $35 an hour at the bargaining table. Or counsel might be gotten for all the work on a retain- er fee of about $450.

"We're not trying to take anything away from city employees," they said, "but labor agreements are highly technical and someone who

What the city needs is better cost accounting," Schlieve said the two association letters sent to the council were poorly written and show a complete lack of understanding of union agreements.

"I think the association has done a disservice to city employees," he asserted, "and I will strenuously object if it tries to interject itself into the actual negotiations."

Cost Accounting Frinak and Jabas were asked if the association was willing to help compute these costs. They answered, "Our men could not possibly undertake the whole job because we are all men with families and have fulltime jobs to support them. We would consider helping in any way we can."

One alderman commented, that portion of the agreement to read that overtime shall not be paid twice on the same hours. An estimate of the total cost of the agreement to the city has also been requested by the taxpayers group.

Commander Thinks Red Subs Nuclear Equipped Manila — (U) — The commander of a U S navy anti-submarine force today said there is good reason to believe that a number of Russian subs are equipped with nuclear weapons.

Rear Adm. J. D. Black, commander of the navy's 17th carrier division, did not elaborate on the nuclear equipment aboard Russian under- sea craft He said the Rus- sians now have 450 subma- rines, a figure also used by Vice Adm. Hyman Rickover two months ago in testimony before a U. S. congressional committee.

Social Security

QUESTIONS AND ANSWERS

Q. I am receiving social security benefits and expect to change my mailing address soon. If I leave a change of address with the post office, will that be all I need to do to get my checks at my new address?

A. No. You should also file a change of address with the social security administration. This may be done by either calling at your local social security office or by mailing a notice to the social security payment center from which your checks are received.

Q. I plan to be visiting relatives for the next month. Should I notify the social security administration of their address?

A. No. If you will be away from your home address for only a short time, you should make arrangements with your postmaster to either forward your check to you or hold it until you return.

Q. I heard over the radio that workers should check their social security account at least once every three years. What happens if a worker waits more than three years—say five or six?

A. There is a statute of limitations on social security records which provides that if three years, three months and 15 days have elapsed since the year a report of wages or self-employment income was received, the record is considered final and can no longer be changed, unless certain technical exceptions apply. Therefore, if your record is incorrect, but you wait five years before checking, the record will be considered final, and unless technical exceptions apply, you can no longer correct it.

Q. My husband plans to retire in a few months. I will be 62 by that time. Who must make the decision as to whether I should file at age 62 for the wife's reduced benefit or wait until I'm 65 for the full wife's benefit?

A. You must make your own decision on whether to claim benefits at age 62 or wait until age 65. However, employees at your local social security office can furnish information on this point, but they can not tell you what your decision should be.

The social security administration office is in the courthouse annex, 401 S. Elm street, Appleton.

New Direct Jet Service Links Midwest to European Cities

BY V. I. MINAHAN
Editor of The Post-Crescent

On the glinting wings of a huge Boeing 707 Intercontinental, direct pure jet service between the midwest and the capitals of Europe was opened last week.

Air France won the race among the airlines to open up the lush midwestern market for direct overseas jet travel. With a plane load of over 100 newspapermen and radio-TV people, including this reporter, it inaugurated its Chicago-Montreal-Paris run which is now operating on a regular twice-a-week schedule.

Other airlines will follow with similar service. Next week Lufthansa will begin jetting between Chicago and Frankfurt, and flights to London and Rome will be available before the end of summer.

Thus travelers from the midwest now can jet directly to Europe without going through New York. The big planes soar from Chicago's O'Hare field over Michigan across Lake Huron and over Toronto to Montreal, then out over the North Atlantic, providing a glimpse of Labrador, Cornwall and the Channel Islands as they approach the European coastline.

The Air France flight takes approximately nine and one-half hours which includes an hour's layover at Montreal while the plane is refueled for the Atlantic hop. The Montreal-Paris run is made in seven hours. (The return trip takes longer because of headwinds.)

A traveler from the Fox Cities can now leave the Outagamie county airport, for example, on North Central's 3:15 afternoon flight to O'Hare and land in Paris at 5:25 (Appleton time) the next morning.

VIP Service

Air France officials obviously were aware of the historic nature of the flight and gave their guests VIP (Very Important Person) service. Three days of sightseeing and nightclubbing in Paris and vicinity were enjoyed before the return trip.

The new service is important for Canada too, since the Montreal airport is relatively easy to get to from Toronto, Hamilton, Ottawa, Quebec and other cities in eastern Canada where the bulk of the dominion's population lives. Montreal presently has the only airport in Canada capable of taking the big jets.

Trip Notes: Although we left Montreal at 12:30 a.m. EST, two and a half hours

TB Association Elects Eleven New Directors

Hears Reports on X-Rays, Skin Tests, Use of Seal Money

The Appleton Area Tuberculosis association elected 11 new directors at its annual meeting Tuesday at the Conway hotel.

Elected were Edward R. Rallenbeck, Mrs. Dan E. Cloud, Mrs. Mildred C. Jensen, Mrs. Louis B. McBain and Clifford Benson, all of Appleton; Mrs. Robert Braun and Mrs. Helen Latham, both of Kimberly; Mrs. John H. Scherer and Mrs. Carl Nagan, both of Combined Locks; and Mrs. John Van Asten and Mrs. Robert Gneiser, both of Little Chute.

They replace five directors whose terms expired and increase the board's size to 20 members.

Give X-Rays, Tests

The association had the mobile X-ray unit take 3,272 chest X-rays during the year ending March 30. President Miss Stell M. Brandt reported of these, 2,717 were in Appleton and 556 in Combined Locks, Greenville, Kimberly and Little Chute.

A total of 381 of the X-rayed people were referred to city and county nurses for follow-up.

The association also sponsored tuberculin tests for 4,274 children in fourth, eighth and 11th grades. These tests showed 174 new reactors, Miss Brandt said.

Riverview Sanatorium reported that half of the association's $8,696.61 income from Christmas seal sales was turned over to the Wisconsin Anti-Tuberculosis association.

Of the remaining amount, the largest sum, $973, was used for the mobile unit X-rays. The association spent $810 on skin tests for school children; $367 for printing and stationery; $365 for postage, $218 for convention and meetings, and $200 for clerical help and supplies.

The association gave $250 for research. As of March 31, the association had a balance of $8,696 in its bank account, investments and accrued interest, the treasurer's report showed.

Works Board Reverses View On Pool Bids

Accepts Offers Without Substituting Alternate Materials

In an about-face Tuesday, Appleton's board of public works turned down a chance to cut construction cost of the new southside swimming pool by $10,300, and actually added $1,000 to the cost all on a matter of principle.

A week ago the board instructed Ralph H. Burke, Inc., Chicago, consultant engineers for the project, to contact low bidders, to see if they would use suggested alternate materials, thus lowering their bids. Burke found bidders willing.

However, board members said Tuesday contractors had bid on specifications set up by Burke and accepted by the city and they did not think it was right to try and bargain them down.

Revised cost of the pool now is $308,617, compared to $301,117 if all alternates had been accepted. Previous cost of the pool, allowing one alternate, was $307,567. But when the board decided to accept only original base bids on all four phases of construction, the price went up $1,000.

Because of the board's action Tuesday the $350,000 bond issue for the pool probably will not cover the cost, it was pointed out, and a budget appropriation will have to be made next year.

To the construction cost must be added nearly $54,000 for architect's fees, resident engineer fees, inspection fees, furnishing for the pool area and bathhouse, cost of replacing a ball diamond eliminated by the pool and a contingency fund.

Low bids accepted by the board were Hoffman company, general construction, $191,900; Uptown Electric, Waupaca, electrical work, $28,000; R. Wenzel company, plumbing, $78,249; and heating and ventilating, Wenzel Bros., Inc., $10,468.

Appleton Dentist Faces Drunken Driving Charge

Minneapolis — Dr. Edward A. Rydell, a dentist, Palisades drive, Appleton, who last week was dismissed by a municipal court judge here Tuesday faced a state warrant for the same drunk driving charge.

Dr. Rydell won dismissal of the charge because the misdemeanor had not occurred in the presence of a police officer. His arrest was ruled illegal without a formal complaint by the city attorney.

After the dismissal and before a proper complaint could be issued, Dr. Rydell walked out of the courtroom and returned to Wisconsin. Traffic Judge Thomas Bergin ordered Assist. City Atty. Milton Gershin to issue a complaint and warrant under state law. If extradition proceedings begin, the city attorney's criminal office division will handle it, Hennepin County Atty. George M. Scott said today.

Minnesota officials said state complaints were issued against Dr. Rydell because a person cannot be extradited for violation of a municipal ordinance.

Two Deny Tipsy Driving Counts

Two men have denied drunken driving charges and posted bonds for municipal court trials.

Allen E. Wheaton, 32, Madison, posted $128.85 bond for trial July 6 after paying a $15 fine for driving 78 miles an hour in 65-mile zone.

Wheaton was charged after county police clocked him on County Trunk KK and N and in Darboy April 26. He had received his driver's license from the state April 21 after a Jan. 9 revocation for his driving record.

Donald J. Barribee, 27, who gave his address as Kohl's cabins, Highway 10, posted $168.85 bond for trial Sept. 2. He was charged by city police after his car went over a curb for 80 feet into a tree, 80 feet along a boulevard, then 80 feet back into the street and a stop Saturday morning in the 1000 block of N. Badger avenue.

Braves' Buhl Hurls Against Podres Tonight

Covington Makes First 1960 Start in Left Field

Los Angeles —(U)— Manager Charlie Dressen has hopes of solving his left field difficulties tonight with big Wes Covington making his first start of the season for the Milwaukee Braves.

The Braves and San Francisco Giants were rained out Tuesday afternoon. Tonight's contest with the Los Angeles Dodgers is the opener of a 2-game series.

"Wes said he'll be ready even though his heel still bothers him," Dressen said.

Only last week Dressen said he was faced with a problem in left field if Covington would be unable to play. Dressen said that the other men who he has had playing the position turned in an adequate performance but thought Covington was the best player for the job.

Has 1-1 Record

Dressen named Bob Buhl—a pitcher with a long record of kills against the Dodgers—to start for Milwaukee against Johnny Podres. Buhl has a 1-1 record for the season going.

In the Upper Photo, Appleton High's Pete Glasheen (left) passes the baton to Bob Arndt after the first leg of the sprint medley relay in Tuesday's dual track meet against Green Bay East. The Terrors won the event and the meet. At the bottom, a trio of AHS half-milers are leading the way as the runners take the first curve. From front to back, are Bill Weber (the eventual winner), Bill Ryle and Bill Simon.

AHS Track Team Crushes East High Terrors' Reinke Equals Best Quarter-Mile Time in State

BY JOHN L. PAUSTIAN
Post-Crescent Sports Editor

Al Johnson's famous expression, "You ain't seen nothin' yet," might well apply to the running of Appleton High school's Dave Reinke.

Reinke, a 220-pound dashman by trade who has run the 440 in only two meets and seldom works on it in practice, circled the AHS oval in a bunny-like 52.5 seconds Tuesday afternoon, equalling the best quarter-mile time in the state this season. (Shorewood's Tom Merkert first attained that standard.)

If Reinke, who looms as the Terrors' best quarter-miler since Austin Cotton, begins concentrating on the new event, there is no telling how good he might become. The streaking senior could jeopardize the 23-year-old AHS 440 record (51.6) set by Jack Sellers.

Take 10 Firsts

Reinke's win on a track that was a few cuts short of "fast," was one of 10 firsts for AHS yesterday, as the Terrors crushed an undermanned Green Bay East track squad, 88-28.

The Terrors, who have won two straight meets after finishing a close second in a season-opener triangular, get their stiffest test to date Thursday afternoon when they invade the Green Bay West track for a dual meet with the undefeated Wildcats.

Dave LaViolette and Wayne Polzin scored "doubles" for AHS and produced the biggest individual point totals—13 and 121, respectively. LaViolette won the broad jump.

Titan Golfers Gain 10-8 Win Over Vikings

The Lawrence college golfers were nipped by Oshkosh, 10-8, in a make-up test on the Lawtonia course Tuesday.

Jim Rasmussen, Dan Gilmore and Ray Sherman scored 2-1 wins for the Vikings. Lawrence's Tom Hillman and Bill Leeson lost 2-1 matches, and the Titans' Al Coenen (of Appleton) posted the only shutout—beating Chuck Engberg.

The Titans' Jim Harke (of Kimberly) shot the medal score of 81.

Lawrence plays Ripon Thursday, but the site of the match is not yet definite because of uncertain course conditions.

Saturday morning, the Vikes take on a Lawrence alumni team, which will include Ralph McGowan, Dan Steinberg, Jr., Don Strutz and Don Jabas—all former Butte des Morts club champions.

Don Gilmore, L. (41-42-83), beat Mike Spaulding (42-43-85), 2-1.

Harold Johnson Favored Heavily Over Floyd

Philadelphia —(U)— Harold Johnson, the No. 1, lightweight contender, rules a heavy favorite to defeat unheralded Clarence "Tiger" Floyd tonight in a nationally televised (ABC) scheduled 10-round fight from Convention hall.

It will be Johnson's first bout since Nov. 12 when he scored a technical knockout over Sonny Ray in Chicago. The 31-year-old Philadelphia native has a 62-8 record and has won his last 11 fights.

Floyd, an unorthodox boxer, has 10 victories in 17 fights. The New Yorker gained prestige by scoring an upset decision over previously unbeaten and fourth-ranked Von Clay here March 18.

American Football League Awards Berths to Chicago and Atlanta

BY ED CORRIGAN

New York —(U)— The fledgling American Football league became a 10-team circuit today with the addition of Atlanta and Chicago, but there remained one mystery to be solved:

Who gets the Chicago franchise?

Harry Wismer, president of the New York Titans and chairman of the AFL expansion committee, announced Tuesday that Atlanta and Chicago have been awarded franchises.

Eaton Chalkley, Carrollton, Ga., automobile dealer and husband of movie actress Susan Hayward, snapped up the Atlanta franchise.

"We'll play in Atlanta when we've got a place to play," he said, "meaning that I'm hopeful this will encourage the city to get on with its new stadium project."

2 Groups in Running

Wisner said two groups were trying to get the Chicago franchise. One, he said, was headed by Tom King, Jr., and Johnny Rigney, formerly of the Chicago White Sox and now a securities dealer. The other he identified as being headed by Bill Veeck, currently president of the White Sox.

But:

King said his group had not asked for or received a franchise. He said the league asked for a $25,000 down pay-

Foxes' John Papa Pitches 6-4 Win Over Cedar Rapids

Cincinnati Hands Dodgers 5-3 Loss

Dotterer Doubles Home Clincher; Craig to be Out 2 Months

By The Associated Press

The way things were going at Los Angeles, it looks like Vada Pinson blew town just in time.

It was Pinson, Cincinnati's fleet, 170-pound center fielder, who sent Roger Craig tumbling in a home plate collision Monday night. Craig, the 190-pound right-hander who meant a National league pennant for the Dodgers last season, left the game with what then was thought to be only a bruised right shoulder.

Plunked By Williams

But after an examination Tuesday uncovered a broken collarbone that will sideline Craig for two months, it didn't take Pinson long to get the idea he was a marked man.

Dodger pitchers kept him dancing and dodging and reliever Stan Williams finally plunked him, as the Reds took a 5-3 decision Tuesday night and then left for San Francisco.

The Philadelphia Phillies defeated the Chicago Cubs, 10-9, in the other game played in the NL. The only other game scheduled, Milwaukee at San Francisco, was rained out.

The Dodgers finally nipped Pinson on the right hand in the seventh inning. He then stole second, went to third on a fly ball and scored the Reds' final run when Williams sent a wild pitch over Frank Robinson's head.

Plate umpire Tony Venzon called a halt at that point and shook a finger at Williams, a right hander with something less than pin-point control. Players from both clubs crowded around the plate, but Venzon later said his re-

The senior right-hander struck out three and walked one and was vulnerable only in a 2-run Two Rivers third.

The contest, the only one of three scheduled which could be played, broke a second place tie between Kaukauna and idle Clintonville. Menasha remains on top alone.

The loser was Two Rivers freshman Phil Rehauer, who went all the way to drop a 9-hitter. He walked two and struck out two.

Ripken's 2-Run Double in Seventh Sparks Uphill Victory; Gillick Faces Braves' Overby Tonight

Post-Crescent Staff Writer

Fans were wondering today whether the Fox Cities Foxes have separate home and road teams.

The club that wore the Fox Cities road "grays" opened its season with four straight losses, as the pitching staff yielded a staggering 55 runs and failed to turn in a complete game.

In the home "whites," the Foxes recorded their second consecutive come-from-behind victory Tuesday night at Goodland field, 6-4, over Cedar Rapids. John Papa's 11-

Ripken — strikeout 6-hitter was the club's second straight route-going pitching job.

The hero's bat that Charlie Johnson swung in Monday's home-opening 5-4 triumph over Burlington belonged to Cal Ripken Tuesday. The veteran catcher banged a 2-run double in the seventh to put the Foxes ahead to stay (5-4).

Usually a solid defensive backstop, Ripken had one of his worst nights ever in the field—an error and two passed balls.

With the temperature hovering in the mid-40s and a heavy fog moving in, playing conditions were far from ideal. Spectating conditions weren't much better, and just 391 loyalists defied the elements.

Left-hander Pat Gillick (6-0) will go for the Foxes tonight. His opponent will be southpaw Dennis Overby (1-0) highly-publicized Milwaukee Braves bonus baby from Chetek, Wis.

Gillick hurled eight bright innings against Cedar Rapids his last time out, failing to get the decision in a 14-inning, 5-4 Cedar Rapids win.

Tuesday's loss knocked the Braves from second into third place in the infant Three-I race. The Foxes remained in seventh.

Topeka Nips Soos as Jones Wins Third, 9-8

BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

The strong pitching of Topeka's Stan Jones and the all-thumbs fielding of Des Moines' Demons featured activity in the Three-I league Tuesday.

Jones, although needing relief help from Vic Davallio, notched his third straight victory to keep Topeka riding in first place with a 7-2 record. The Reds beat Sioux City, 9-8.

Des Moines' fielding was so faulty that all of Lincoln's runs were unearned in a 6-4 conquest. The Demons committed six errors en route to their eighth defeat in nine games.

In the only other game played, Fox Cities won its second straight by beating Cedar Rapids, 6-4.

Terror Track Team Crushes East High

CONTINUED FROM PAGE 1 (19-9) and the 180-yard low hurdles (:21.95) with his high hurdles, as East's Terry Dorschner caught him and passed him in the stretch.

Wins Both Sprints
Polzin roared home first in the 100 and 220-yard sprints, in times of :10.6 and :23.5. Polzin also ran a 220-yard leg for AHS' winning half-mile relay team.

Bill Weber, Cal Klues, Reinke and Polzin, who already own the Fox River Valley conference's fastest relay time of the season (1:34.7) won easily Tuesday in 1:35.4 on a track that was soft and muddy in places.

Coach Ray Kinziger's Terrors slammed four events. Polzin, sophomore Jim Hill and Pete Kafura swept the three places in the 220. LaViolette, Bill Caesar and Polzin finished 1-2-3 in the broad jump.

Wally Bond, Dan McIntyre and Bill Hopkins made a clean sweep of the pole vault. And, in the high jump, Kent Anderson, Dick Syring and Bloedorn all surpassed the best GBE effort.

The other AHS firsts came in the 880-yard run and in the sprint medley relay. Bill Weber remained unbeaten in the half-mile as he won handily in 2 minutes, 9 seconds. Weber's best time (also the FRVC's best) is 2:06.9.

In the sprint medley, Pete Glasheen (440 yards), Bob Arndt (220), Pete Kafura

(220) and Dick Rankin (880) won by at least 100 yards in a clocking of 4:06.1.

The only East victories, other than Dorschner's in the high hurdles, were produced by a pair of athletes who kept their 1960 records clean. For the fourth straight time, Bob Freimuth won both the shot and the discus throw in the same meet. He tossed the shot 50 feet, 6 inches—his peak effort of the season.

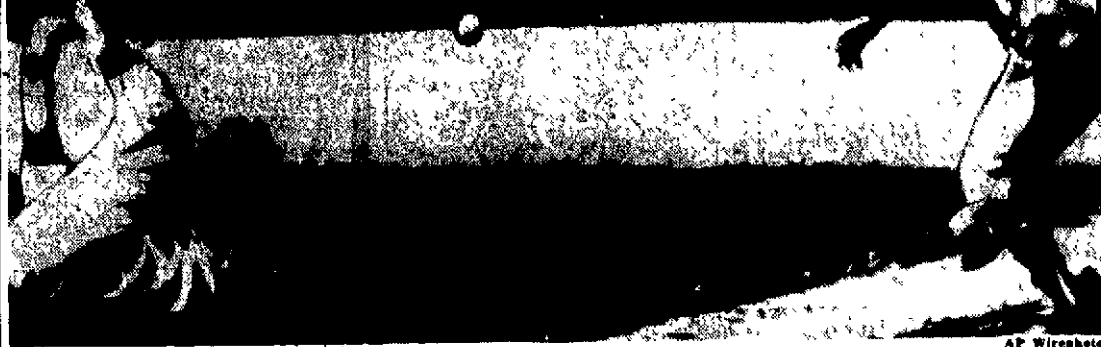

East's Clarence Scherer won his fourth successive mile run. He did it in 4:56.9, easily his best of the season.

AHS' Gene Sipple, a sophomore, came up with a surprising second place in the discus, on a throw of 119 feet, 11 inches.

120-yard high hurdles—1. Dorschner, E. 2. LaViolette, A. 3. McNeill, E. Time :21.95.

Dick Williams, Kansas City third baseman, lands on his back as he tries to catch a single off the bat of Gene Stephens, Red Sox centerfielder, in the fifth inning of Tuesday's game in Boston Fenway park. Coming in to retrieve the ball is Ken Hamlin, Athletics shortstop. Boston won, 4-3.

IMPROVE Your GAME

By Irving Marsh & Gord Tyrrell

GOLF Rough Tip

When you're in the rough, the most important thing to consider is that the ball must rise as quickly as possible in relation to the distance to be covered. Thus, in most instances, a more lofted club will give you greater distance than a low-numbered one. Don't defeat your purpose by using a 5-iron when a 7 will serve as well.

Off to Good Start

Staley, Lown Upset Pattern Of Previous Great Relievers

New York —(U)—Gerry Staley and Turk Lown are again pointing up the importance of relief pitching. Between them they have been credited with three of the first seven victories recorded by the league-leading Chicago White Sox.

Staley and Lown combined for 17 victories last year when the club won its first American league pennant in 40 years.

Actually, Staley and Lown are upsetting a pattern followed by several of big league baseball's outstanding relievers. More than a few have followed a sensational campaign with a mediocre or a poor one.

Jim Konstanty, for example, won 16 games and the National league's most valuable player award in 1950 while helping the Philadelphia Phillies win the pennant. The next season, Konstanty managed only four victories.

Joe Black of Brooklyn picked up 15 triumphs in 1952 and followed with a mere six games won in 1953. And Joe Page, who won 14 for the New York Yankees in 1947, posted a 7-8 record in '48.

Among today's other relief specialists, Bill Henry of Cincinnati is off to a worst start. Henry was a workhorse for the Chicago Cubs last year, winning nine games and pitching in the most games in the league, 65. So far this season, the left-hander has won none, lost one and shows an earned run average of 7.71.

Pon Elston of the Cubs, a 10-game winner in '59, has dropped three decisions and won two. Elroy Face of Pittsburgh, who had a phenomenal 18-1

Liston Named Top Challenger

Magazine Picks Kingpetch Month's Top Fighter

New York —(U)—Pon Kingpetch, the newly crowned world flyweight champion from Thailand, has been named "fighter of the month" by Ring magazine which also has moved Sonny Liston of Philadelphia into the No. 1 spot among the heavyweight contenders.

Liston's knockout of Roy Harris on the closed circuit TV show from Houston, sent him into the No. 1 position, displacing Zora Folley of Chandler, Ariz.

Ring rates Floyd Patterson of New York, who lost the world title to Ingemar Johanson last June, as the No. 3 contender.

Joe Giardello of Philadelphia advanced from fifth to third place in the middleweight rankings in which Paul Pender of Brookline, Mass. is recognized as champion. Gene Fullmer, the National Boxing association champ from West Jordan, Utah, is rated No. 2 challenger.

May 17 is the deadline on which a $15 entry fee is being charged. Games would be played on Tuesdays. A league meeting will be called sometime after May 17.

Judy Eller Wins First Match in Defense of Title

New Orleans —(U)—A Florida veteran with four grandchildren had something to say today in the second round of the women's Southern Amateur Golf tournament.

In one of the matches that pits youth and its ambition against age and experience, defending champion Judy Eller of Old Hickory, Tenn., faced Mrs. Mark McGarry of St. Petersburg, Fla.

Miss Eller, only 18, is a member of the U. S. Curtis cup team that will try its hand against British women golfers in two weeks. For the time being, she's concentrating on a successful defense of her Southern crown, and whipped Mrs. Gaines Wilson of Louisville, Ky., 5 and 4 in Tuesday's first round.

Mrs. McGarry, keeping her age to herself, trimmed Mrs. Harry Henderson of Alexandria, La., 5 and 3, for her first round triumph.

Polly Ann Riley, the Fort Worth, Tex., swinger who has been the Southern champion five times, started after another crown Tuesday with a 7 and 6 routing of Mario Simmons of Bogalusa, La.

Stockton, Calif. — Mario de Leon, 112, Mexico City, outpointed Dommy Ursua, 114, Stockton, 10.

Appleton's Dave LaViolette is running first in the 120-yard high hurdles event but Green Bay East's Terry Dorschner — the eventual winner — is closing fast. The Terrors whipped East, 89-29, here Tuesday.
